2030 3d Bn - The enemies practice in the past has been to conduct landing operations just prior to daybreak on mornings when high tide and daybreak are coincident or nearly so. Tide and moon set data show that the above conditions exist for the next three mornings. G-2 reports show some transport planes in this area. Also indications are that the enemy has received reinforcements recently. In view of this, all units, particularly OPs will be especially alert these next three mornings during the periods from moonset to daybreak. Reserve units, in particular, will be especially alert for enemy parachute troops during this period.

Bomber flights reduced in size today. Generally three or less planes made raids. Leaflets dropped which show a cartoon of an American general. (presumably Gen. MacArthur) waving goodbye to Corregidor, while others left behind shake fists at him. Corregidor is pictured as surrounded with mines -- whether intended they be considered Jap origin or not is difficult to determine. The wording of the leaflet, translated from Tagalog, is as follow: "Notice to the Filipino soldiers: MacArthur and Sayre run away from the Philippines, so Now, point the barrel of your rifle at the Americano, and fight them bravely. Thus you will win the real liberty.

During 15th & 16th enemy artillery batteries from Batadn & Cavite laid down a heavy crossfire on Corregidor, until partly silenced by our counter battery. Many 240 mm shells were used. Our artillery fired counter battery silencing 3 enemy batteries which had been in action. There were approximately 40 casualties on Corregidor due to direct hit on shelter at Battery James.

From G-2: If Japs intend to try to take Corregidor by storm, it is believed that the attempt will be made between 19-23 April, at which time the moon is right for a landing of the kind they have had so much success with in the past. If they plan to make this attempt, it will be, in all probabilities, preceded by intense aerial & artillery bombardment for at least two days.
