Harry D Dewhirst states failure to provide proper food, quarters and medical care to internees at Los Banos 5 Dec 44 to 23 Feb 45. Witnesses Humpty Barnes and O'Brien.

(8-45) 73

SECRET

Above states on or about 3 February 1945 2 of the civilian internees at Los Banos escaped in order to get food. Both returned the same day, one succeeded in entering without being detected. Other one was shot by a guard while entering the stockade; shot without any warning. 3 internees immediately took him to the hospital, however, when the Japanese Commandant heard of the incident, he had the man taken to his headquarters, whereupon he shot him through the head. O'Brien witnessed this.

SECRET

Harry Daniel Dewhirst states at Cavite in Dec 1941 they were marched back and forth each day from the Navy yards, about 2 kilometers, to gather nails and small pieces of material which the Japanese used in their bombs. On several occasions he saw the Japs beat the American soldiers, tie their hands behind their backs and make them eat out of troughs like pigs.

(9-45) 1

SECRET

Harry Daniel Dewhirst states he personally was present at Cavite when the Japs apprehended the daughter of Major Farr, who was a former Lt. of the Philippine Constabulary and a former Major in the Philippine Volunteers. It appeared that the Japs were attempting to obtain information from the girl concerning her father. They hung her up by her hands until her toes were just off the ground and then proceeded to beat her unmercifully with rope.
