NEW CIVILIAN INTERNEE CAMP IN FRANCE

The German authorities have closed Ilag VIII, the civilian internee camp at Tost, in eastern Germany, and transferred to a new civilian camp for men at Giromagny, France, the Americans who were in Ilag VIII. Giromagny is in the Department of Vosges, in northeastern France. On the map of prisoner of war camps (published last September) Giromagny can be added in square B3.

The original group of Americans, numbering 88 men, sent to Ilag VIII were picked up in Belgium and northern France by the Germans in 1940. Mr. John A. Parent, the American camp senior who was moved with the men from Tost to Giromagny, has cabled on behalf of the group to "express gratitude to all the benefactors and staff of the American Red Cross for the efforts made to alleviate their distress."

MAIL FOR FLYERS

We wish to repeat an earlier announcement that all first class mail and airmail for American airmen in German camps should be addressed to Stalag Luft III, where it is censored. If the camp where the prisoner is held is other than Stalag Luft III, the camp designa-tion (for example, Stalag VII A, or Stalag XVII B, or Stalag Luft I) should be added in brackets.

When sending snapshots, the name and number of the prisoner should be written on the back

Notes on Red Cross Packaging Centers

In the early days of March the 10-millionth standard prisoner of war food package was produced.

The Philadelphia plant, of which Mrs. Stacy B. Lloyd has been chairman since its establishment early in 1943, completed its 2,800,000th package before moving at the end of March from 3028 Hunting Park Avenue to 23rd and Chestnut Streets, where it occupies the entire five floors of a former automobile-sales building. The new plant is near the center of the city so that many more people will now have an opportunity to see the assembly line in operation.

Whenever a prisoner of war from the Philadelphia district is reported, the chairman writes to the family inviting them to visit the plant. Its output averages 12,500 packages a day, with about seventy women volunteers serving on each shift. There are two vice-chairmen at Philadelphia-Mrs. S. Leonard Kent, Jr., and Mrs. Henry H. Pease. Each shift has a captain and five line directors who help to keep the operation running smoothly. There are also groups of men volunteers who keep the supply bins filled with the different items that go into the packages.

By the end of March, the output of Center No. 2 at Chicago was close to the 3,000,000 mark. A number of volunteer workers in the Chicago plant, as in the other three, are, of kin of American prisoners of

On March 13, No. 3 Packani Center at 39 Chambers St., York, celebrated its first bird and the production of its 3,060,0 food package. Eighty volunteers in the Queens Central Chapter wen duty for the anniversary cele tion, and a birthday cake was o Later in the day the volunteer a from the North Shore Chapter I a similar party, and on March volunteers from the New York Ch ter, who man the assembly line two and a half days a week, hel celebration.

The New York Center is open by 750 women volunteers, divi into twelve three-hour shifts a we The volunteers are provided by ous chapters in the Greater York area and northern New

In order to acquaint member their community with the food p aging operation, the St. Louis C ter arranged over a period of sev weeks to bring groups of citizens bus to the St. Louis Center. A taking lunch at the plant can the visitors were given the b ground of prisoner of war n work and conducted through Pa aging Center No. 4.

> Sec. 562 P. L. & R. U. S. POSTAGE

> > PAID

Washington, D. C.

Permit No. 84

April 1944 Published by The American National Red Cross Washington 13, D. C.

Prisoners of War Bulletin

Return Postage Guaranteed

Serials Acquisition The University of Texas Library Austin 12 Texas

RISONERS OF WAR

sided by the American National Red Cross for the Relatives of American Prisoners of War and Civilian Internees

2. No. 5 WASHINGTON, D. C.

MAY 22 194 MAY 1944

THE LIBRARY

Relief Shipments to the Far East

DISTRIBUTION REPORT

Preliminary reports have now been received on the distribution of the relief supplies for prisoners of war civilian internees in the Far East, which were loaded, by the American Red Cross, on the diplomatic exchange o, Gripsholm, at Jersey City last September and transshipped at Mormagoa to the Japanese ship, Teia Maru. se reports, which came by cable from the International Committee of the Red Cross, are summarized below:

	Philippines		Japan				Sumatra	Total
Lange State Control	To War Prisoners	To Civilian Internees	Korea Manchuria Formosa	Shanghai	Java	Malaya	Thailand Burma Borneo	Reported Dis- tributed
special 13-pound food packages	44,648	24,204	32,712	13,976	10,672	2.616	10.924	139,752
Medical supplies—cases	1,297	685	507	188	137	25	46	2,885
Clothing, men-sets	1,260	1,535	7,505	1,565	Water .	5		11.870
Clothing, women and children-sets		4,270	15	950	15	30	45	5,325
Overcoats			2,070	1,800				3.870
Shoes-pairs	6,996	1,560	11,664	1,872	816	204	864	23,976
Toilet sets, men	14,130	1,050	12,330	900	30		30	28,470
Toilet sets, women and children		4,270	15	950	15	30	45	5,325
Shoe repair materials—cases	263	73	101_	28	26	6	28	525
Tobacco assortments—cases	143	69	, 73			2	3	290
Bed sheets—cases	10	41		-				51
Recreational supplies, YMCA - cases	63	42	103	-				208
Religious materials, NCWC-cases			20	5				25

At all the points listed, distribution of the supplies to prisoners of war and civilian internees is underod to have been completed.

Detailed reports have also been received on the distribution made to many of the camps in Japan. The taka camps, for example, received 8,000 of the special 13-pound food packages, 137 cases of medicine, 1,875 s of heavy clothing, 525 overcoats, 2,916 pairs of shoes, 25 cases of shoe repair materials, 3,900 comfort sets, 18 cases of tobacco. At Zentsuji, where the camp strength is much less than at Osaka, the men received 1,600 packages, 22 cases of medicine, 375 sets of clothing, 105 overcoats, 588 pairs of shoes, and 600 comfort sets. attibution on approximately the same basis was made to all the camps in Japan proper.

British and Canadian Red Cross Supplies

In addition to the supplies sent by the American Red Cross, the Canadian Red Cross sent 24,240 standard d parcels, 60 cases of miscellaneous food, 74 cases of medical supplies, 13 cases of miscellaneous supplies, and British Red Cross sent 891 cases of medical supplies. These supplies were off-loaded at Singapore for distribution the surrounding areas and Netherlands East Indies, and at Yokohama for distribution in Hong Kong and an. The supplies for Hong Kong are still being held at Yokohama awaiting opportunities for shipment to Hong

Postmaster-If addressee has removed and new address is known, notify sender on FORM 3547, postage for which is guaranteed.

German Camp Notes

Stalag III B

The youngest prisoner of war at Stalag III B is the American spokesman for this camp, according to a recent report. He is Sgt. Clyde Bennett, age 22. "He has assumed his task," the report stated, "with enthusiasm and ability, and has found capable assistants.

There were about 2,700 American prisoners at Stalag III B at the end of February, a large part of them being away from the base camp on work detachments. One detachment recently had a strength of about 700 men.

While the American section at Stalag III B was numerically the strongest, the camp also contained French, Russian, Yugoslav, Dutch, and Italian prisoners of war. The recent arrival of a substantial number of Italian prisoners is said to have caused overcrowding at the camp. The German commander's office was reported to have been "helpful and sympathetic" in the organization of camp life at Stalag III B, and, despite overcrowding, the huts were said to be clean and orderly.

There was no chaplain for American prisoners, the YMCA has reported, until last September, when a Catholic priest was transferred from Ilag VII Z, a civilian internment camp. He was Father Samolewicz, an American of Polish origin. He began by holding two services every Sunday, and short prayer meetings every evening. His assistant was Sgt. John Pacholsc.

Although about one-half of the American prisoners at that time (last September) were Protestants, they had no chaplain. Two lay ministers-Sgt. Gray and Sgt. Berger-were holding regular Protestant services. Sgt. Gray stated that he preached twice every Sunday to an audience of several hundred men. Two other lay preachers also administered to the needs of the men in work detachments. These men had begun last September to build their own chapel. The urgent need of the prisoners for Bibles, prayer books, and worship materials was being met from Geneva by the YMCA and the National Catholic Welfare Conference.

The library, in the other half of the hut which houses the camp church with its 350 seats built by American prisoners, had over 6,000 volumes last September. Several months earlier the camp had only 200 volumes which had been donated by the German commander. As in the case of the church, most of the library's interior fittings had been made from Red Cross boxes. The work detachments were supplied with Red Cross packages and books from the main

An orchestra of 21 men had been formed at the base camp, the musical instruments having been furnished by the YMCA. Sgt. Boettcher, a professional organist, was the conductor. He also conducted the choir at religious services. The orchestra was permitted to visit the work detachments once a month.

Kloster Haina Lazaret (Stalag IX A)

The Kloster Haina Lazaret near Kassel, dependent on Stalag IX A, was closed a few months ago. Of the sick and wounded American prisoners of war (numbering about 40) in Kloster Haina Lazaret at that time, a few have been repatriated, several were sent to Bad Soden, and the remainder transferred to Lazaret Obermassfeld. Obermassfeld, which is dependent on Stalag IX C, is in Thuringia, in central Germany. Prisoners of war repatriated from Kloster Haina and Obermassfeld have spoken highly of the care an attention they received there.

Stalag Luft III

The strength of Stalag Luft In continually increasing, the latest, port available giving the number American officer-airmen there at m. 2.000. The spokesmen at the camps into which Stalag Luft In divided, according to a recent tepe was needed to get it organized were: East Compound, Group tain Kellett (British); North ( pound, Group Captain Wilk (British); Middle Compound, C onel Spivey (American); South Co pound, Colonel Goodrich (Am can). The South Compound, whi is all-American and has men le practically every state, was or opened last September. Within weeks the men there had begun build a new theater, and to prepare a playing field by digging up a stumps and roots. They were permi as a swimming pool.

Stalag Luft VI

Recent reports have indicated arrival of a substantial number American noncommissioned aim at Stalag Luft VI, which is located Heydekrug, in the northernmost

HOME

"Home" at Stalag Luft III. By Lieut, Leonard E. Hamaker, cartoonist for "The Cita produced fortnightly by American prisoners of war at Sagan, Germany.

Prussia near the Lithuanian er and close to the Baltic Sea. salag Luft VI is a new camp, and in June 1943, for noncomoned officers of the Royal Air many of whom had been transed from Luft I and Luft III. At end of February, the number of erican prisoners at Stalag Luft exceeded 200, but the British atly outnumbered them at that Since it was a new camp, much ports, entertainments, and eduional activities. As most, if not all. the prisoners there are noncoms, not required to work outside camp, idleness has been a conthreat to them. The men transed from Stalag Luft III brought quantities of materials for music, and entertainments. evalso brought about 6,000 books, ly for educational needs.

Stalag XVII B

The following letter from S/Sgt. ted to use the fire service reserve Lameth J. Kurtenbach, American kesman at Stalag XVII B. dateed Krems-Gneisendorf, Austria, wember 11, 1943, was received by International Committee of the d Cross at Geneva:

> We received on November 1 a card of clothing, shoes, cobbler's s, and equipment. It was transped to us from Stalag VII A, our mer address.

Words cannot express the appreciaon that the men of this Stalag feel word the Red Cross for the shipent. It means that every man of Stalag, numbering two thousand, now all equipped warmly for the nter. It was our foremost need. now, thanks to you, our needs we been filled. We have an exceltobbler's and tailor's workshop, those supplies were also helpful. Our organization is now entirely pendent, as we also have our own unity cookhouse. If there is any sion in the American Red organization for bulk food to urnished us, it would be greatly eciated. We have one week's suppackages left, so any help that ceive on standard food parcels be greatly appreciated.

of the American Air Force tely appreciate the help given by your organization and the nican Red Cross.

arge shipments of Red Cross dard food packages have gone ard from Geneva to Stalag XVII hace the above letter was written.

LIFE IN TOKYO CAMPS

The letter below is from a missionary who returned last December on the Gripsholm after 34 years' residence in Japan. His home was in Tokyo.

It was impossible for us to visit the camps where the prisoners of war were kept. My wife and I were free for the first year of the war. After that, we were interned for a year until the time of our evacuation. The two types of camps, civilian and prisoner of war, were quite distinct. The civilian camps were visited periodically by a representative of the Swiss Legation in Tokyo. I understand, however, that it is difficult even for the Swiss Legation to make contact with the war prisoners' camps.

However, it so happened that a Roman Catholic priest, who came to our camp in the spring of 1943, had been a chaplain in the Philippines and was taken to the camp in Japan with the regular prisoners. From him I was able to gather a little information which may be of interest to you. Camp No. 1, Tokyo area, is what we knew as the Shinagawa Camp. Shinagawa is in the southern end of Tokyo and lies along Tokyo Bay.

I imagine that their main problem is proper food. The priest reported that the boys get Japanese food, which consists largely of rice. They receive bread once in about ten days. Of course, there are the foodstuffs which the Red Cross provides, and I understand that the boys had received some of them.

The boys in the camps are expected to do some work on the outside. Some handle freight; others work on roads. I understand from the priest that the boys are not driven very hard. In fact, there seems to be no actual mistreatment. As long as the boys behave themselves, the men in charge seem to be kind enough. The fact that the men have work is really a blessing, for life in a camp can become very

The boys may get the two English dailies which are still published in Japan, and they may have a radio, but they cannot get any news except such as the Japanese censor permits. 1 know definitely that efforts were being made to get books for the prisoners of war. Some medical attention is available for them.

AMERICAN INTERNEES IN SWITZERLAND

The American airmen interned in Switzerland have been transferred from Macolin to Adelboden, where they are living in "Camp Maloney." The camp, which is installed in the Hotel Nevada Palace at Adelboden, was named Maloney in honor of the first American aviator to lose his life on Swiss soil.

A recent report from a Delegate of the International Committee of the Red Cross, who had visited the men at Adelboden, stated that he had found "an atmosphere of order and organized activity." The mornings were given over to study and lectures. the afternoons to sport, laboratory work, and hobbies. There were motion pictures on two evenings a week, and lectures on other evenings. All internees had to be in camp by 9:30 P. M. Captain Kramer, the Swiss commander of the camp, commended the conduct of the Americans under his charge.

Two club lounges had been installed, and tastefully decorated, in the hotel-one for officers and the other for noncoms. There were private rooms for those studying music; a well-equipped photographic laboratory, and another section for courses in radio construction and repair. The men were required to take courses filling three hours each morning, and a wide range of subjects was available to them.

Professor A. Velleman, of the University of Geneva, has been engaged as director of education for the internees, and he is assisted by Captain Lloyd Free of the American Legation staff at Berne. Lieut. Andrews is the camp's educational officer. The senior American officer is Captain Woodward, the recreation officer Lieut, Oakes, and the executive officer Lieut. Geron, the report stated.

MAPS

Since the publication in Prisoners of War Bulletin last August and September of maps showing the approximate locations of camps in the Far East and Europe containing American prisoners, many changes have occurred. Instead of trying to keep the old maps up to date, it has been decided to prepare new ones. The new map showing camp locations in Europe will be published in the June issue. The new map showing Far Eastern camp locations will appear

A First Contact Across Barbed Wire **

Visit to an American Prisoners of War Camp (Stalag III B)

The camp was clearly to be seen from the train, approaching the quiet little German town of Furstenberg. The charming and peaceful-looking landscape on the right-hand side of the railway line suddenly flattened out and changed into an endless row of wooden barracks. Why, this was not a camp; it was quite a city of its own! Barracks in all directions, separated by streets and squares and sportgrounds, where occasional games of volley-ball were taking place. But most dominating of all was the barbed wire, surrounding every inch of this vast area; endless miles of uglylooking barbed wire, only interrupted here and there by the threatening silhouette of a watchtower.

These are the daily surroundings of millions of young men at the present moment, in various parts of the world. Those are also the actual surroundings of over 2,000 American prisoners, mostly taken in Tunisia, who suddenly and bewilderingly have had to adapt themselves to that strange and restricted life of a prisoner of war. This being a recently erected camp, the prisoners had not yet been able to establish a regular contact with their own people at home. For this reason, the European Student Relief Fund was particularly proud and grateful for the opportunity given to one of its secretaries to visit this camp of American prisoners, to get in touch with lonesome students cut off from any kind of intellectual life, and to give them new hope for the future by offering them educational help and support.

In the company of a Delegate of the International Red Cross, I arrived at the desolate little railway station of Furstenberg. The German officer who is going to be our guide politely ushers us into a military car. He speaks excellent French and English and shows a keen personal interest in the recreational and educational welfare of the prisoners. The same goes for the Commandant, to whom we are introduced after a short drive which brings us to the official headquarters of the camp. After discussing with him the ways and means for starting educational work in his camp, such as the intricate matter of classroom space, I am introduced to the American spokesman, and his personal assistant. The spokesman, Flight-Sergeant C. Bennett, is a newspaper man in civil life, and his assistant, Sergeant R. Gollomb, is a lawyer, B.A. and L.L.B., of Wisconsin University. They are keen and fine young men, enjoying the full confidence of their fellow prisoners.

When I explain to them that I am here as a representative of the E. S. R. F., of fellow students who want to help and to show their feeling of responsibility and student solidarity, Sergeant Gollomb quickly replies with obvious signs of happy excitement: "Well, sir, this is exactly what I have been longing for during these first months of settling down. It would do a world of good to us all if we could soon start an organised educational programme. But all we've got are a few tattered novels which mysteriously were brought along in uniform pockets all the way from North Africa!"

Organizing Work

With no more formalities, we walk straight down the camp street to the neat little office, which is the daily residence of the spokesman and his small staff. I am placed in an "easy chair" made out of wooden packing cases from the American Red Cross which have recently arrived with supplies to the great joy of everybody. We get down to the first organising work without delay, for the time is precious and all too short. Here is a pioneering task which the E. S. R. F. has always regarded as one of its most vital responsibilities. All the students in the great camp must be listed and contacted individually. They must all be informed by what means they can be helped by the E. S. R. F. in view of continuing their university studies during the dragging days of captivity. Most of this work has naturally to be done through the channel of the educational leader of the camp. Sergeant Gollomb, who will be chiefly responsible for educational activities. offers to prepare a list as soon as possible, giving the names and full particulars of every student in the camp, which list is going to serve as a basis for the future contact between the E. S. R. F. and this camp.

programme. Sergeant Gollomb i wal isolation among the mass of all titles ready at hand of those by if fellow prisoners and to offer which will be most urgently remains the material necessary for conwhich will be most urgently require for this purpose. Two larger gro for the study of French and Gen will be formed as soon as any a ful textbooks arrive. Both groups be led by Gollomb, who shows 7. markable command of langua-Not only does he speak German French without difficulty, but & when hearing that I am a Swede, at barracks. Every now and then greatly surprises me with some portion to a surprises me with some portion to greatly surprises me with some porti consin, where Swedes are everybeen next-door neighbours, he explain one can hardly avoid picking a den flash, what the E. S. R. F. certain amount of Swedish. Neverthans to this and to that individual less, I am duly impressed and to lent prisoner when I was led up pleased indeed.

Obtaining Textbooks

However, we have to get bad serious work. We note down a serof textbooks which will be requi for a group of second-year laws dents. A happy coincidence brought about that this subjection which Sergeant Gollomb is parts larly well qualified to conduct, is n students in the camp. In this spe field the great problem will be me thorities as quickly as possible, so European authors will hardly the same value for teaching Am arrange that the E. S. R. F. willo to its student supporters in USA the necessary books, while all pos-efforts are being made to obtain least some suitable substitute Geneva, A large amount of note and other study material will al needed, but happily enough can be abundantly provided the our new secretariat in Sweden

For other subjects which are put on the initial schedule, su accountancy, engineering, etc. necessary textbooks will be easily obtained from the E.S. stock in Geneva. When we close little meeting, we had good here the educational activities would anning smoothly in this camp, in came manner as in the numerous r prisoner of war camps with the E. S. R. F. is in touch. The ber of university students is not The main thing which has to ricularly high. For this very done during my actual visit at son, all efforts must be made to draw up a preliminary education of the students out of their intelactive educational work.

Meeting Fellow Students what this personal approach

ans to countless individual stu-us was made very clear to me, on we ended up by making a visittour around the camp to see how boys were getting on in their difad surrounding us and introduced to him. I fully realised, as in a spectacled young man with the dic-sounding name of Linder, I a brief chat with this lonesome somewhat bewildered looking student and told him that we ald be glad to give him every poshelp to continue his studies durcaptivity. Like most of his fellow ners, this student had not vet rived a single communication home since being taken prisoner ne than four months previously. resented by the largest percentage of here he was unexpectedly apached by a fellow student from outside, offering personal and inhold of the recognised American idual assistance for his particular ellectual needs. "My, this was a flect Godsend, I must sav!" was his stammering reaction. "I thought can students their own particular time in this camp was going to be law cases and juridical practice. "pletely wasted!" His eyes were ply shining behind his spectacles thanked me for this offer, which him meant a new ray of hope, a bit of meaning in a meaningless > soners of War Bulletin is sent free of arge to those registered as next of kin the Office of the Provost Marshal eral, to close relatives of American iers of war, to American Red Cross pters, and to workers engaged in pris of war relief.

We have omitted the names of any ty may be added to the mailing list by may be added to the mailing list by maing to your Red Cross chapter.

Gilbert Redfern,

Repatriation from Germany

By Marion Hale Britten

Since the return of the Gripsholm in the middle of March, with 35 seriously sick or seriously wounded American prisoners of war from Germany, government departments and the American Red Cross have received many inquiries concerning the possible repatriation or exchange of other prisoners and civilian internees. There is no one answer that applies to all such inquiries, but they can be divided into various categories.

The first and largest group are able-bodied prisoners of war. There is, at the present time, no arrangement between nations for the exchange of such prisoners. The exchange recently completed between this country and Germany, and the two Gripsholm exchanges between this country and Japan concerned chiefly civilian internees, diplomatic personnel, newspapermen, and Red Cross workers. The 14 seriously sick or seriously wounded American prisoners of war who returned from Germany last fall, and most of the 35 who were repatriated in March. had been examined by mixed medical commissions which had certified them as seriously sick or seriously wounded.

Article 68 of the Geneva Prisoners of War Convention of 1929 provides that belligerents are bound to send back to their own country, regardless of number or rank, "seriously sick and seriously wounded prisoners of war after having brought them to a condition where they can be transported." Article 69 of the Convention provides for the appointment of mixed medical commissions, each to be composed of three members, two of them belonging to a neutral country and one appointed by the Detaining Power. These commissions make all decisions regarding the seriously sick and seriously wounded prisoners. They examine those prisoners of war who request examination, and those whose cases have been proposed by the powers in whose armies they have served.

Qualifying for Repatriation

The United States and Germany have agreed to observe, on a reciprocal basis, the model agreement attached to the Geneva Prisoners of War Convention. This model agreement defines the degree of incapacity that shall be considered sufficient to qualify a prisoner of war for repatriation.

The Department of State is making every effort to see that the names of all United States prisoners in Germany who might be eligible under the terms of the Geneva Prisoners of War Convention and the model agreement attached thereto are proposed for examination by the mixed medical commission. The department will be glad to receive from families any names of seriously sick or seriously wounded prisoners of war, together with the evidence in each case which demonstrates the possible eligibility of the prisoner for repatriation. If the evidence is adequate, the department will forward the names to the Swiss government, which represents American interests in Germany, with the request that they be proposed for examination by the medical commission.

Adequate evidence from the next of kin would include such statements as:

"My husband has tuberculosis."

"My husband has been blinded."

"My son's arm (or leg) was amputated." Such evidence, however, would need to be substantiated by giving the source of the information. It is not sufficient to present statements

"My husband is in a hospital."
"My son was wounded." "I have not heard from my brother for

Protected Personnel

Another group of detainees who are not strictly prisoners of war but are often captured with servicemen are medical, sanitary, religious, and volunteer aid society personnel. The Red Cross Convention of 1929 for the Amelioration of the Condition of the Wounded and Sick of Armies in the Field, in Articles 9 to 12 inclusive, provides that such personnel shall be returned to the country to whose service they were attached as soon as a way is open and military exigencies permit. An arrangement for such cases has been agreed upon with Germany, but no such personnel have yet been returned to this country because they were needed to care for their captured compatriots.

Reports received here from various sources, including those of visits to camps and hospitals by Delegates

(Continued on page 12)

**This article is reprinted from Prisoners of War News, published by the Scottish Branch of the British Red Cross Society. It was written last fall by Mr. Yngwe Frykholm, of the European Student Reltef Fund.

Pointers for Next of Kin

LETTERS

Be careful to follow mailing instructions exactly. Do not use V-Mail forms.

Be sure that the address is correct; letters should not be sent in care of the American Red Cross or the International Committee.

It is essential to print or type letters for prisoners held by Japan. For Europe, if it is not convenient to type letters, they should be written clearly.

Letters to Japanese-held prisoners must not exceed 24 words in the text. To prisoners in Europe it is preferable that they should not exceed one typewritten sheet.

Avoid the use of slang expressions (for example, "Can't get to first base"). They confuse censors and delay mail.

Because of censorship and distribution problems in enemy countries, families should not write oftener than twice a week, and once a week is preferable. There is no limit, theoretically, to the number of letters a prisoner may receive. Experience has shown, however, that too great a volume of correspondence slows up delivery at the other end. As the number of prisoners grows, and the traffic dislocations caused by bombing and military operations increase, the strain on the postal service will not diminish.

Prisoners much prefer letters to greeting cards, for one reason because the arrival of seasonal cards can never be accurately timed.

Prisoners of war, and especially if they were farmers, like to hear about weather and crop conditions at home.

Unmounted photographs may be sent in letters but not in parcels. The prisoner's name and complete address should always be written on the back of the photograph. Prisoners' barracks are drab, and the men like to have pictures and ornaments to help relieve the dreary monotony of their surroundings.

Many relatives and friends put postage stamps on letters to prisoners of war. The United States Post Office wishes it to be made known as widely as possible that all mail (except air mail) is carried free to prisoners of war. The charge for air-mail letters is now 6 cents for each half-ounce, to European countries.

Recent letters from German camps indicate that airmail letters arrive about one month quicker than ordinary mail. Mail for prisoners in the Far East goes by air, free of charge, to Teheran.

Remember that prisoners of war need the expression of their families' love and feeling for them, as well as news of home. Let them know that they are not forgotten and that their place in your lives is waiting for them.

PARCELS

Follow carefully the instructions given in the circul "Gift Parcels to Prisoners of War and Interned Civilian inow that it is possible issued by the Foreign Economic Administration, and, direct from the sent out by the Provost Marshal General's Office, we seller, 60 pounds of ington, D. C.

Put something personal in each box, something has a meaning to that individual man.

Plan and assemble your gifts in the 60-day interest between mailing times.

Provide things that will be appreciated and new seasonally about four months ahead, which is appr mately the time it takes for delivery to German can

Be sure no patriotic slogans or other printing are ally one package of your box or on the containers of anything you send.

A useful item to include is a set of name tags, with the in New York to any prisoner's name embroidered on tape. He can then some prisoner of war. A them on handkerchiefs, socks, etc. Other suggestions and record is kept there peanuts; seasonings (pepper not permitted); hard cans ach package sent out, tea; dehydrated or dried fruits; toilet expendables li toothpaste, soap, razor blades, towels, and shaving tree packages arrive for the dominoes, playing cards, and a cribbage board. If no prisoner receives unneeded supplies, he can always and range trades with fellow prisoners.

Fuel for heating is now very scarce in Germany, a bund package and a if the war in Europe lasts another winter, prisoners and package could not be sent be glad to have extra sweaters and large, all wool scale The past winter, fortunately, was a comparatively mi one in most of Europe.

There is a great lack of eating utensils in most 6 man camps. Plastic utensils are convenient to send next-of-kin parcels.

The American Red Cross has constantly in mind need for variety in the standard food package w every American prisoner of war in Europe receives of a week-unless transportation disruptions, or other dents of war, retard deliveries to the camps. But in six to nine months must necessarily elapse between decision to make changes in the contents of the pu age and the arrival of the revised package at the In the meantime, the next-of-kin parcel affords a 0 venient means for the prisoner to obtain some welco variety in his diet.

If a full-size package every 60 days is hard to so a small one each time is better than a larger and 10 expensive one at longer intervals. The love and thou in the package are much more important to the " than the money value of the contents.

Unfortunately, no route is available for sending p ages to the Far East at this time.

Prisoners Need Books

my relatives and of American prisof war in Europe do a year (at the rate pounds a month) to United States prisonwar and civilian inheld by Germany. ortunately, however, it impossible, because ck of transportation ties, to send individual parcels to Japaneserisoners s each 30 days will be arded by the Censor's at this shipping rate not be exceeded. If prisoner in one one will be held Censor's Office unfollowing month. A same month, as the rule is "one package a month" with mum weight of 5 pounds.

Choice of Books

is surprising how many books rectly about the war still conreferences and allusions to which German authorities might obor are by authors who have "black-listed." Our own cenp is inclined to allow anything litted by the German censors, h the one exception of material would give important informato the enemy.

st nonfiction books written in ast three or four years are about war, directly or indirectly, as also a good many novels.

hat books that it is possible to would interest a prisoner most? answer to this is fairly easy: book that is sufficiently well n, and that has enough body content and purpose to hold leader to the world the author scribing.

prisoner of war lives in monous and drab surroundings, but Most British camps in Germany now have well-stocked libraries.

This picture shows the one at Stalag XX A. through books he can escape into another world. His intellect, his imagination, or his emotions are stimulated by what he reads. Even books that he had read before may be enjoyable, not only for their content but for their reminders of the times and places where he has read them in his old, free days.

If your prisoner is a voracious reader, the Pocket Library reprints are much lighter in weight, and you could therefore send many more books in a 5-pound package. They are also much less expensive. Your bookseller will show you catalogs of the Modern Library, Penguin, Everyman, Grosset, and Garden City publishers.

These reprints have a wide choice, from Shakespeare and Homer through Mark Twain, Thornton Wilder, Jack London, Raphael Sabatini, John P. Marquand, and Daphne du Maurier, to mention only a few.

Books published in these small, lightweight editions are apt to be good reading because they have already survived the test of a first publishing. They are also almost all prewar, and so avoid censorship problems. They weigh from one-quarter of a pound to a pound or more and range in price from 25¢ to $1. If there are any patriotic slogans on the covers of these paper-backed books, be sure to remind the bookseller to take them off.

Perhaps you would prefer to send some book you vourself have discovered recently, or maybe relished and laughed over years ago. The first thing you have to consider is whether that good book will pass the German censors. It's no use to a prisoner of war if it never reaches him. So here's a rule-of-thumb questionnaire. If the answer is No. in every case, the book stands a 99 percent chance of getting through:

Is it political? (Avoid even nonpolitical books which criticize the Axis or extol the democratic ideal and the century of the common man.)

Has it maps, charts, travel information which might conceivably help a prisoner to escape? (Even such innocent-seeming books as Richard Halliburton's are banned.)

Does it deal with the war?

Does it contain information on radio, espionage, technical or military or naval matters?

Is it by an emigre from enemy-held territory?

These conditions have been laid down by the German authorities.

BACK NUMBERS

The reserve supply of Volume I o Prisoners of War Bulletin is now a most used up. The few hundred copies of each issue still available are being held for area and chapter use.

Chapters which do not have a comfile of the Bulletin, or two complete files in the case of the larger chapters, are urged to write to their area office for the missing numbers.

Until recently, a complete set of Bulletins was sent to the next of kin of each newly reported prisoner of war, but those desiring to see back issues will now need to consult their local chapters.

Letters

(The following letters have been furnished to the American Red Cross by relatives of prisoners of war. All mail is censored by the Detaining Power.)

From Far Eastern Camps Camp Omori, No. 373, Tokyo

August 30, 1943 (Received at Washington, D. C., March 18, 1944)

Dear Dad:

Best wishes to everybody at home. Wish I knew how you all are doing. This is my second letter along with two cards. No word from you yet, tho some of the men got radio messages from home. We expect U. S. mail fairly soon. I am well and health is much better than this time last year. We've moved here to a nice camp. Naturally, we spend lots of time talking and thinking about life in peace times. We have lots of plans and hopes for the future. I am sending a photo along and hope you like it. Keep up your courage. This war can't last forever.

COUTAGE. This war can't last forever.

(The above prisoner was captured at Corregidor. His mother had previously received a card from the previously received a card from the country of the previously received a card from the country of the previously received a card from the country of the previously received a card from the country of the previously received the country of the previously received the country of the country of the previously received the country of t

Tokyo, No. 5 Camp Kawasaki, Japan September 29, 1943

Dear Mom, Dad, and Family:

Hope you are all in good health. I am feeling as good as possible. My time is well occupied here. I have not as yet received any answer from you. I miss you all very much. Contact Red Cross and send what you can.

Give my love to the relatives. I am thinking of them all the time. Also give my regards to Bob, and the rest of the fellows. Give my love to Betty also. I hope to see you soon. My love to all of you.

Hoten Prisoner of War Camp Mukden

(Undated. Received at Chicago, Ill., March 17, 1944)

Dear Mamma and Dad:

This is the second opportunity I've had to write. I am still in the best of health and getting along fine, but of course am very homesick. I haven't heard from you as yet but am looking forward to it soon. I hope that you are both well and that everyone else is O.K. at home. Please don't worry about me-just be patient as I am trying to be. Time passes quickly. Take care of yourselves and write.

Love to you both.

(The above prisoner was captured at Cor-regidor. His first card was received on Octo-ber 19, 1943.)

No. 5 Camp, Tokyo Area Kawasaki, Japan September 25, 1943

Dear Mother:

May I take this opportunity to wish you the coming holiday greetings and hoping this New Year will bring us together.

The letters I received from you and several friends made last Christmas a delightful one, and I am expecting to hear from you in the near future. Give my regards to all.

Camp Holmes Internment Camp Trinidad, Philippines August 23, 1943

Dear Folks: The Imperial Japanese Army has given us permission to write to you. We have not heard from you since we were interned, tho we received one cable message from Dr. Aasgaard, and the Hinderlies received one from Rolf Syrdal.

We were interned in Baguio, December 28, 1941. At first we were at Camp John Hay, 28, 1941. At hist we were at carry join Baguio, but on April 23, 1943, we were moved to Camp Holmes, five miles north of Baguio. Here we have more barracks space and more extensive grounds. The view from our mountain home is beautiful. To the north are ranges of pine clad mountains. Below us, a wide valley runs in a northwesterly direction to the shores of the China Sea. Behind us are green hills, from which we get our firewood for the camp. We are cool here, for we are a mile above the sea. While you are sweltering in summer heat, we put on sweaters to keep warm. We are quartered in three barracks. As the women are in the majority among our 500 internees, they occupy two of the barracks, while the men are in the third.

Our diet has been quite varied, and in many ways has been adequate, with plenty of rice, which sometimes reminds us of rice and curry. On the whole we have been in good health. We have not yet had to be hospitalized in our small but efficient camp hospital, staffed by a number of capable doctors.

Time does not hang upon our hands. We do all our own work in camp. Each of us is assigned to a particular detail and spends between two and five hours a day in camp work. I've washed dishes, gathered firewood, cared for camp goats, and helped serve meals. I've preached at our Lutheran services every second or third week, so sermon preparation takes a good deal of time. I also taught a 15 weeks' course in Romans, using the Greek text, and a Norwegian commentary. So you see I've learned a little

Dear Daddy:

Hope your health and the rest of t ily's is good. You probably wonder have been doing for the past year an Really it hasn't been much. We work our camp and farm. This work helps me in good health. The Red Cross I us several prisoner of war parcels equipment, and clothing. They appreciated very much by the prison food boxes are all gone, but I ur and hope there will be more in the

We are living the same as Japa diers, and governed by Japanese discipline. I can hardly wait till I g Dad, will you please send some the family and tell me where La I am anxious to know. In the past a half I have only received one le home. Would like to hear more of your business is flourishing. Love a for sister, mother, and rest of the fan (The above prisoner, a Marine of captured at Tientsin, China, has be, ported transferred from Shanghai to Osaka, Japan.)

From European Camps

December 7.1

Dear Sister:

Just a few lines to say that I am fee swell and things are going O. K. here. me. Working every day, as you know I a shoe cobbler. The weather here supp me. It is not too cold as yet, but it rainy and chilly. Tell everyone the hello and give them my love and gards. Keep sending packages every 60 and tobacco. Send some pictures to I want that sun-tan shirt I have th home and also a sun-tan tie. If po Sister Rose, send some "Pearl White" paste. I want a cheap pen and pend One you can buy in a shop. Also a p scissors and a small sewing kit, with b When you write don't be afraid to and write often too. I can't write so but can receive quite a few. I can only two letters like this and four post a month. Got some amusements. We a library, a band, and sporting equip-L. We are making plans now for the to be home, and my every prayer is that on't be long. Mondays are all Christs to us for we get a Red Cross parcel man. Never fail to give to the Red Cross ley sure have done a lot for me. Will oodbye for this time.

Zentsuji, Japan. This picture was received it Unidentified prisoners of war at British Red Cross.

Prisoners from a German camp for airmen go for a swim under guard.

> Offag 64 January 2, 1944 vell, 1944 is here upon us. I hope all the re well and will have a prosperous py New Year. I still haven't received if from home, but I hope to before When you send me a book parcel, see can get hold of a Spanish-English We had a beautiful service on as Eve. We have a choir that can ng. We have no Protestant chaplains, two Catholic chaplains hold a genvice for the Protestant officers. I have Bible which was given to me by a chaplain in Italy.

Dulag Luft December 26, 1943 meived at Chicago, Ill., March 1, 1944)

Mom and All:

d I guess I've caused some anxious as around home. To start off, we were down over Germany a few days ago. worry any, we are all safe and sound. eve got a lot to be thankful for. I'm ir prayers helped us all. As yet we at our permanent camp. Will write you my address as soon as possible. rite until you get it. By the way, the ss is sure treating us boys O. K.

> Stalag Luft III December 8, 1943

ved your September 11 letter. With back home like you and Dorothy such cheerful and encouraging letknow life isn't altogether hopeless. tures you sent are really swell, but sure can find the darndest contraphats. It really is good to receive from home. They adorn the wall alongside my office (bunk). I'm expecting to receive your September parcel any time now It will be a swell Christmas present. The pipe and tobacco you sent were very timely. I had just started smoking a pipe. How did

I'm now spending a little time on the camp biweekly newspaper as a cartoonist. The paper, all done in pencil, is a one copy issue and hangs on the cookhouse. I re ceived the drawing paper that you sent through the YMCA, and my winter days and evenings should be well spent in cartooning. And it's just the paper I need, too. I hope that we all have a happy New Year and that your chicks can soon flock back to our Dad and Mother.

(The above letter is from Lieut. Leonard E. Hamaker. His latest cartoon is published elsewhere in this issue.)

Stalag II B December 26, 1943

Dear Family:

I didn't tell you this before, but I'm working on a big farm with 12 of my buddies. I'm not working very hard. I'm get-ting enough food and we didn't have such a bad Christmas. We got lots of new clothes and Christmas food parcels from the Red Cross. Besides this, we get food packages pretty regularly, so please don't worry. Believe me, I'm okay and in good health.

> Stalag Luft III December 25, 1943 (Received at Richmond, Va., March 7, 1944)

Dear Dad:

Merry Christmas (just a month or so late), but what's a month? One thing I've learned here is that rushing was unnecessary. Never again do I intend to get excited when things don't go off on time. It takes letters about three months to get here, but Clipper mail arrives about a month ahead of free mail. Last week we saw Hepburn and Grant in "Bringing Up Baby." It was new to me. The sox are beautiful; the scissors, nail files, gum. and candy very good. Parcels are coming through in about sixty days. Would like more shirts like this green one, or some of my old green cadet shirts and slacks.

We have a beautiful Christmas tree (spruce, I think) glistening with shreds of cellophane, tinfoil, and ornaments.

Supplies For Shanghai Camps

Substantial amounts of food were distributed during the month of February by the Delegate of the International Committee to civilian internment camps in Shanghai, according to cabled advices. These supplies

Canned fish	6,765 tins
Meat	6,139 cans
Jam	4,700 jars
Maltose jam	45 lbs.
Cocoanut oil	2,400.1bs.
Cracked wheat	6.800 lbs.

and such miscellaneous items as soap, flour, peanut butter, vegetables, fruits, salad oil, fresh pork, and milk powder. Toilet articles, medicines, sports equipment, cigarettes, and tobacco were also distributed. These supplies were purchased by the Protecting Power (Swiss) representatives from funds provided by the United States and Allied governments.

From funds furnished by the American Red Cross, the International Committee Delegate at Shanghai also purchased during February, for the prisoners of war camp at Kiangwan, a large assortment of supplies which included:

Lima beans	_4,000	lbs.
Rolled oats	2,000	lbs.
Corn flour	2,000	lbs.
Barley	$_{1,000}$	lbs.
Noodles	2,000	lbs.
Fresh beef	_ 500	lbs.
Bacon	_1,500	lbs.
Corned tongue	_ 600	1bs.
Lard		lbs.
Peanut butter	160	lbs.

CHESS SETS FOR AMERICAN PRISONERS

The Department of Agriculture Post No. 36 of the American Legion has arranged to send 1,000 complete chess sets for American prisoners held in Germany. Arrangements have also been made by Mr. Herbert H. Holland, Chairman of the War Service Committee at Post No. 36, to obtain gratis from publishers in the United States sufficient books on chess so that every camp or hospital in Germany containing American prisoners will obtain at least two.

The Special Services Division of the United States Army has also supplied recently, through War Prisoners' Aid of the YMCA, 1,200 chess sets for American prisoners.

QUESTIONS AND ANSWERS

- O. I have changed my address since my son was reported a prisoner of war. Whom should I notify?
- A. Prisoner of War Information Bureau. Office of the Provost Marshal General, Washington, D. C., assuming you are the prisoner's next of kin. The Provost Marshal General will notify the Red Cross. If you are not the next of kin but receive the BULLETIN, please notify the Red Cross, through the local chapter.
- O I note that addresses of prisoners of war should include the prisoner of war number. My son is in Philippine Islands prison camp No. 2, but I have never had a number for him except his U.S. Army serial number. How should I go about getting his prisoner of war number?
- A. Prisoners of war in the Philippines have never been given P. O. W. numbers, so far as is known here. Therefore, it is not necessary to include such a number in your son's address. His army serial number might help to identify him, and could be included.
- Q. Can the pastor of the church I belong to write letters to my son who is a prisoner of war in a camp in Tokyo, Japan?
- A. According to the Geneva Convention, prisoners of war may receive letters from relatives and friends, without limit as to number. Of course, your pastor would need to observe the rule made by the Japanese concerning length (not over 24 words) and be careful to use the exact address given by the Provost Marshal General's Office.
- Q. I have been writing to my husband in a Japanese prisoner of war camp, using the address given me by the Provost Marshal General, but I have received three cards from my husband telling me to address letters in care of the International Committee of the Red Cross in Geneva. Which instructions should I follow? I am particularly anxious because in the two years since my husband has been a prisoner I have not had any acknowledgment of the many letters I have written.

- A. The instructions concerning addressing letters which you received from the Provost Marshal General came to his office from Japan through the International Committee in Geneva, It would certainly be better to use the official address as it was given to
- Q. My son is a prisoner of war in Rumania, and he wrote asking me to send him his home town newspaper. Please let me know if I could send it to him, or if the same rules apply in Rumania as in Germany.
- A. No printed matter can be sent to prisoners of war by relatives in this country except books, and these must be ordered sent direct from booksellers or publishers.
- O. I have been told that many American boys try to escape from prisoner of war camps in Germany and that they rarely succeed. Are they severely punished for trying it?
- A. Attempts to escape from prisoner of war camps and from working detachments outside the camps are frequent no matter in what country the camps are located. The percentage of successful escapes, however, is very smallunless the escape has been well planned and the prisoner has a thorough knowledge of the surrounding country.

The penalty in most countries for an attempted escape is usually from fifteen to thirty days' solitary confinement, with one hour outdoors each day for fresh air and exercise. During the period of confinement in German camps, the prisoners as a rule are not permitted to receive parcels.

- Q. My husband, who is a prisoner of war, has asked for a map of Europe. May I send him one in a letter, since printed matter is not permitted in next-of-kin par-
- A. It is probable that no prisoner of war would be allowed by the German censorship to receive a map of any kind.
- Q. I see frequent mention of YMCA representatives visiting prisoner of war camps in Germany. Do representatives of the Ameri Red Cross make similar visus

A. United States nationals are permitted to visit prison came enemy countries. The Dele of the International Comm of the Red Cross who visit camps are Swiss nationals too, are the representative the Protecting Power, American Red Cross has its representative in Geneva works closely with the Intotional Committee.

> The War Prisoners' Aid of YMCA operates under the pices of the World's Comm of the YMCA. Its representa who regularly visit prisoner war camps in Germany are ish nationals. Neutral represent

- Q. About nine months ago, I Tokyo No. 2 Detached Camp, dated noticed in the BULLETIN W next-of-kin parcels may be once every two months. Can waiting two years for word from her about the period?
- A. Parcel labels are issued to a of kin of prisoners of war in rope every two months, but has not yet been possible 10 4 of transportation.
- Q. Are prisoner of war officers in Germany put to work!
- mills, breweries, cold stranges I guess I shouldn't complain-plants, glassworks, railroad vantry and climate are really wonmills, breweries, cold stora etc., or on roads, farms, or i forests. These work detachme for the most part, live outside

United States nationals. As an Caritas II, latest addition to the Red Cross fleet, which left Philadelphia at the end they are Swiss, Danish, or So of March loaded with prisoner of war supplies.

tives of other welfare organ Extracts from Letters

dool time months ago, 1 loyo No. 2 leathest camp, taken ceived a label from the Pisacer 3, 1943: 'I am well. Please write Marshal General's Office to sugh Red Cross condition of family. I may be write and send pictures of and children. I am so lonely for brother who is interned by som home. I work every day and Japanese. Since then I have dean, wholesome life with no liquors. ceived no more labels, but I'm constantly of you all and pray for reunion. May God love and bless p you all as He has cared for me."

please advise me where to weader in Los Angeles recently received for the labels, or am I misse and card from him at Mukden Prisabout the period? taking this opportunity to let you hat I am all right. I hope to see you Stalag Luft III, dated December has not yet been possible to might my thoughts drift home and tend this facility to the next loved ones. Christmas Eve here at kin of prisoners in the Far II will be ideal tonight because we because there is no regular me to opportunity to celebrate midnight to receive the Sacraments. My heart tk to you all."

Stalag VII A, undated, received at oids, Mich., March I: "I finally have to write a letter but I can't tell you A. No, officers do not have to we cope that since July 29 I've had some but privates, providing but and exciting experiences, and on health is good, may be put didn't do too bad for myself so health is good, may be put be war effort. If the part in it. work in factories, mines, the leping the war effort. Life here isn't

Stalag Luft III, dated December 15: for the most part, live outside base camp, thus affording prisoners a welcome change the confinement of barbed with the confinement of barbed with the confinement of barbed with the provided by the than that provided by the mans in prisoner of war camp with the confinement of war camp with the confinement of the con another movie today. That makes

If you mail by transatlantic clipper, with 30 cents postage, letters are received quicker. Please send plenty of chocolate bars in the parcels. Also toothbrush, comb, 2 shirts, 2 trousers (O. D.), woolen socks, light and heavy underwear, heavy sheepskin gloves and sweater (turtle-neck). Purchase things of exceptionally good quality, and, in the case of socks, etc., in gay colors."

From Stalag VII A, dated September 3: "We have started a new club here called the Bearded Club. We have lots of fun with our ball clubs and various games. Also lots of sunshine, roomers, and whatnot."

From Stalag Luft III, dated December 9: 'My third personal parcel came quickly. We were happy over the unexpected contents and very surprised that seven such records could arrive unbroken. You can't imagine all the fellows who come around now to ask where I got victrola records, how long it took, and, much more important, if I could lend out some. Everybody seems to like Goodman, and I'm glad the boys come to me for the latest on hit parades."

From Joseph C. McDaniel, Stalag II B: "We have no chaplain here and I conduct services on Sundays as well as Bible study class on Wednesdays. I have written several articles for our prison paper, and made sketches of home."

From Stalag Luft III, dated December 13: "I am now in a British staffed hospital and am receiving the best of treatment. My leg will be in a cast for two months yet, but I am getting around on crutches now and the injuries will leave no permanent effect. I have been doing quite a bit of reading lately as they have a good library."

From Oflag 64, dated December 20: "Last week we had a hobby exhibit in camp and it was surprising to see the beautiful carvings, drawings, and models that have been made here, also some needlework.

RATION COUPONS FOR PARCELS

Extra coupons for shoes, sugar, and other rationed items on the permitted list to be sent in the bimonthly next-ofkin package to prisoners of war or in ternees may now be had by making special application. General Ration Or-der, No. 17, effective April 5, 1944, gives general directions to the rationing officials concerning such coupons. The next of kin should apply in writing to the nearest District Office of Price Administration, the address of which can be obtained from the local rationing board. The application should contain:

1. The name and address of the applicant

2. The name of the place from which the goods will be sent and the statement that the parcel will go by mail
3. The name and address of the person to whom the parcel is being

4. The number and kind of points for which application is being made.

Parcels containing the items for which special ration points have been obtained must conform to the regulations sent out by the Provost Marshal General's Office.

THE RED CROSS NEWS

The first two issues of The Red Cross News, which were shipped from the United States last September and October, duly reached American prisoners of war in German camps. They were "extremely well received and appreciated" by the men, according to a cable from the American Red Cross representative in Geneva.

The Red Cross News is published monthly, and several later issues, the cable stated, had reached Geneva for distribution to the camps through the International Committee of the Red Cross. Advance copies are sent to Geneva for clearance with the German censorship to avoid unnecessary delay when the bulk shipment of copies arrives.

Arrangements have also been made at Geneva so that copies of each issue are going, through the International Committee, to its delegate in Tokyo with the expectation that the Japanese authorities will permit them to reach American prisoners held by

The early issues of The Red Cross News contained 8 pages of American news, but the number was increased to 12 pages so that more space could be devoted to sports, special articles, cartoons, and to the monthly roundup of news from every state.

Prisoners of War Bulletin invites reprinting of its articles in whole or in part. Its contents are not copyrighted.

JUNE 1944

Aid for French Prisoners

Canadian Cooperation

The Canadian Red Cross has readily agreed to cooperate with the American Red Cross in a clothing program for French prisoners of war in German camps, whose number exceeds 800,000. Practically all of them are in urgent need of clothing.

Major General B. W. Browne, Assistant National Commissioner of the Canadian Red Cross, has been designated to handle this matter on behalf of the Canadian Red Cross; and the Canadian Army, on the initiative of General Browne, has made available a large amount of clothing and shoes for this joint operation. The first shipment went forward from Philadelphia to Marseille this month, and will be distributed in the camps under the supervision of the International Committee of the Red Cross.

Count Henri d'Ornano is row in Washington charged by the French Committee of National Liberation with looking after the interests of French prisoners of war. In addition to clothing, large purchases of standard food packages, medicine kits, and comfort articles have been made, through the American Red Cross. for French prisoners in German camps.

Notes on Red Cross Packaging Center

Red Cross Center No. 1 at Philadelphia completed its transfer in April to newly leased premises at 23rd and Chestnut Streets and has been producing packages at the new location since April 10. The present Philadelphia plant has a floor space of about 60,000 square feet, which is double the size of the previous plant. Philadelphia produced its three millionth package in April.

Center No. 2 at Chicago appro-priately celebrated its first birthday on March 8, nearly 400 workers attending the occasion. Work continued throughout the day, however, and 11,841 packages were turned out. Service pins were presented by the packaging center chairman to the ten women volunteers who had completed 288 hours or more during the year. One volunteer headed the list with 829 hours.

A number of repatriates who returned in March on the Gripsholm from civilian internment camps in Germany have visited Packaging Center No. 3 at New York and were able to give the workers at the center vivid pictures of life in German camps and of the importance of food packages to prisoners of war and civilian internees. One visitor described how every scrap of material in the packages was made use of, and another told how the interness made Christmas mince pies mince meat from corned beef raisins, apples from over a go wall, and a crust made from pu ized biscuit and oleomargatine Red Cross packages. In addition standard food packages, the York Center during March pad of 2, No. 6 invalid food packages and 600 2. medical kits.

The Honor Roll of Center V at St. Louis now includes app mately five hundred names of w teer workers who are relative prisoners of war. Each of three the volunteers has five sons in service. Six young women who n larly work in a St. Louis del plant from midnight to 8 a. m. re promptly for the morning volum shift, which begins at 9 a. m.

> Repatriation (Continued from page 5)

> > Sec. 562 P. L. & R.

U. S. POSTAGE

PAID

Permit No. 84

Washington, D. C.

of the International Committee with war conditions, about American the Red Cross, indicate that positioners of war and the methods for medical care is being given to providing aid and comfort to them." trolled countries. These reports he been substantiated by the statement of seriously wounded member patriated to this country.

RISONERS OF WAR BULLETIN published by the American National Red Cross for the Relatives of American Prisoners of War and Civilian Internees

A year ago the first number of MISONERS OF WAR BULLETIN Was isof for the relatives of American isoners of war and civilian inemees. At that time Mr. Norman H. Davis, Chairman of the American Red Cross, in an introductory stateent set forth the purpose of the w publication. It would serve, he American sick and wounded The issues of the BULLETIN which held in Germany or in Germane have since come regularly each nonth from the press have tried hithfully to achieve the original purose as set forth by the Chairman. the armed forces who have been the first number, for instance, had sits principal feature a concise summary of the rights of prisoners of ar. Other articles from time to me have given helpful advice to he next of kin and detailed infornation on what they could do. rough the sending of supplemenay packages and special parcels of loks and tobacco, to alleviate the toral and physical distress of their wed ones.

"to give information, consistent

ctual Reports on Camp Conditions

Other outstanding features of the LLETIN have been the pages of insting quotations from personal ers written by servicemen and ilians held in European and Far stern camps and the columns of stions and answers where some the problems and rulings woring the anxious next of kin have en solved or clarified for them. mp notes, and detailed reports the condition of camps in Europe the Far East containing Amerihave been published regularly and as promptly as the information could be gathered from responsible sources. The aim throughout has been accurately to inform, help, and advise the families at home, and not simply to console or comfort

WASHINGTON, D. C.

One Year OldTHE LIBRARY

From time to time the BULLETIN has also served to publicize important governmental rulings concerning the sending of cables, letters, and packages to American prisoners of war. It has faithfully and succinctly attempted to report the various steps taken by the United States government through the Protecting Power, and the American Red Cross through the International Committee of the Red Cross, to implement the Articles of the 1929 Geneva Prisoners of War Convention which govern the treatment of military prisoners.

Our Prisoners in the Far East

It is a matter for profound regret that the American Red Cross, in cooperation with other interested agencies, has so far been only partially successful in persuading the Japanese government to conform to the rules laid down in the Geneva Convention. But this vital matter will not be allowed to drop. Readers of the BULLETIN have been kept informed of all the efforts unceasingly made to send relief to American and Al-lied prisoners held in the Far East. They also know that the British Commonwealth and American Red Cross societies are striving, through diplomatic and Red Cross channels, to cpen a route along which relief supplies may be allowed to pass freely.

With the active support of the Air Transport Command of the United States Army and the invaluable cooperation of the Russian govcrnment, an expeditious mail channel to American prisoners in the Far East has been opened about which the families have been promptly informed. Through reports, articles, and photographs they also know of the Red Cross fleet which shuttles the Atlantic, and they have the assurance that we will not rest until a similar fleet carries relief supplies over the Pacific.

Keeping Relief Channels Open

Of all the manifold activities of the Red Cross during war, none is perhaps so complex and yet so important as relief to prisoners of war. Important it is too that the relatives of these prisoners be reassured about this relief and made aware of the many intricate problems facing the Red Cross in keeping open channels of communication and supply to those in prison camps overseas.

In the months that lie ahead, therefore, when the total number of prisoners will undoubtedly increase with each new step along the road leading to our country's final and most certain victory, there will be much for PRISONERS OF WAR BUL-LETIN to do. Guided by the experience of the past twelve months, I am sure its editors will continue in the future to publish with accrued sagacity the information and guidance to those for whom the publication was founded one year agothe relatives of our American prisoners of war and civilian internees.

> RICHARD F. ALLEN Vice Chairman Insular and Foreign Operations American Red Cross

Prisoners of War Bulletin

May 1944 Published by The American National Red Cross Washington 13, D. C.

7

Return Postage Guaranteed

Serials Acquisition The University of Texas Library Austin 12 Texas

Postmaster-If addressee has removed and new address is known, notify sender on FORM 3547, postage for which is guaranteed.