Change of Address

All next of kin officially listed for prisoners of war and civilian internees have the Prisoners of War Bulletin addressed to them in the office of the Provost Marshal General. The same addressed to them in the Office of the that office. Therefore, if next of kin in-form the Provost Marshal General, War Department, Washington, D. C., of changes of address, the BULLETIN as well as official notices should reach them promptly. In advising of a change of ad-dress, next of kin should use the follow-

"I am officially listed as next of kin of Pfc. John Smith, prisoner of war No. 000 (or service serial number) held at Camp...., Germany or Camp_____, Japan. I have moved from _____ mail sent to me there."

If it is more convenient for next of kin, notice of change of address can be sent to the local Red Cross chapter.

Many names in addition to next of kin are on a separate Red Cross mailing list for the PRISONERS OF WAR BULLETIN For those who are not next of kin, therefore, the following form should be used in advising the Red Cross (through the local chapter or by letter addressed to PRISONERS OF WAR BULLETIN, Na tional Headquarters, American Red Cross, Washington 13, D. C.) of a change of address:

"I receive the PRISONERS OF WAR BUL-LETIN although I am not officially listed as next of kin of a prisoner of war. I and wish the BULLETIN sent to me have moved from ...

U. S. PRISONERS IN BULGARIA

Representatives of the Swiss government and the International Committee of the Red Cross on February 15-17 last visited the Bulgarian camp for American prisoners of war situated in the mountains about five miles from Choumen. These representatives, who were accompanied by Bulgarian officials, were permitted to talk freely with the prisoners individually and with their senior officer, First Lieutenant Darlington.

There were about 50 prisoners, all airmen. The camp near Choumen was formerly a convalescent home for Bulgarian soldiers. Only one sleeping room at the time of the visit was available for the prisoners, but a second one, to be used by officers, was promised. Various suggestions for the improvement of living conditions at the camp were made to the Bulgarian authorities, whose attention was particularly called to the obligations of the Bulgarian government as a signatory of the Geneva Prisoners of War Convention. Delegates felt that ignorance of the provisions of the Convention, rather than a disposition to treat the prisoners harshly, was responsible for most of the complaints.

Two wounded prisoners in the clinic at Choumen stated that they were being given good care, and the Delegates reported that the health of the other prisoners was good.

One immediate outcome of the visit was a promise by the camp commander that men would be permitted to write two letters a month.

A follow-up visit was arranged for, and presumably has since been made to see that improvements promised had been put into effect.

PACKAGING CENTERS

Regardless of heat and humids centers have maintained an age the total output had almost reacher 2, NO. 9 the 15,000,000 mark.

The assembly line at the N for the summer.

ian internees in Europe is being made up in Packaging Center No. Imerican prisoners have also been at Philadelphia-not at New York smed recently to the new Stalag use in prisoner of war camps. The Malag 344. recipes were prepared on the bas About 1,500 American noncomof the contents of the standard loss sioned airmen were reported in package and the vegetables who sign Luft IV at the end of June, can be grown from the Red Con camp then being only in process garden packages sent to all camps of construction. Other new camps Germany containing American pts r Americans are given elsewhere oners. The Cooking Guide is being this issue under the heading "Map sent through the International Relanges." Cross directly to the camps, for d tribution in sufficient number so the one guide can be supplied to each Recent information on conditions group of 25 men.

lites is known, notify sender on FORM 3547, Postmaster-If addressee has removed and new

sexeT SI mijeuA The University of Texas Library Serials Acquisition

Reimin Postage Guaranteed

Washington 13, D. C. The American National Red Cross La paysugna

THEI ISHT pisoners of War Bulletin

York plant is now manned on Sam day afternoons chiefly by busine girls who have joined the ranks those who give up precious time in has been reported that Amerion war. Also at work in the New York plant is a group of Jersey Conschool teachers who have volunteer that Amerion war. Also at work in the New York plant is a group of Jersey Conschool teachers who have volunteer that Amerion was the prisoners of war captured in york plant is a group of Jersey Conschool teachers who have volunteer that Amerion was the prisoners of war captured in york plant is a group of Jersey Conschool teachers who have volunteer that Amerion was the prisoners of war captured in york plant is a group of Jersey Conschool teachers who have volunteer that Amerion was the prisoners of war captured in york plant is a group of Jersey Conschool teachers who have volunteer that Amerion was the prisoners of war captured in york plant is a group of Jersey Conschool teachers who have volunteer that Amerion was the prisoners of war captured in york plant is a group of Jersey Conschool teachers who have volunteer that Amerion was the prisoners of war captured in york plant is a group of Jersey Conschool teachers who have volunteer that Amerion was the prisoners of war captured in york plant is a group of Jersey Conschool teachers who have volunteer that the prisoners of war captured in york plant is a group of Jersey Conschool teachers who have volunteer that the prisoners of war captured in york plant is a group of Jersey Conschool teachers who have volunteer that the prisoners of war to be prisoners

COOKING GUIDE

Red Cross volunteers in the Philadelphia, New York, and St. Londelphia, New York, and St. Londel

gate output throughout the summer of over 1,000,000 standard food part shed by the American National Red Cross for the Relatives of American Prisoners of War and Civilian Internees of over 1,000,000 standard food part shed by the American National Red Cross for the Relatives of American Prisoners of War and Civilian Internees

WASHINGTON, D. C.

THE SEPTEMBER 1944

Reports from Camps in Germany

The special Christmas package in a several thousand men had alas was stated in the July Bullern II B at Teschen, on the former lag Luft IV, which is in Pome-A cook book, The Prisoner of War an ear the Polish-German fron-Cooking Guide, has been released at The designation of the old Sta-the Red Cross Nutrition Service of VIII B at Lamsdorf was changed

Stalag II B

he base camp, as well as among work detachments outside, intes a state of affairs at Stalag pasquezens si upiqua soi asme B which is far from satisfactory. tion has been taken by the State partment on reported mistreatt of American prisoners. There about 150 American work dements (almost all agricultural) tered throughout the large area ered by this Stalag, and the conons under which some of these tachments live are very primitive. men are also so widely scatd, with detachments varying in high from a few prisoners to 60 more, that it is impossible for repthatives of the Protecting Power the International Committee of Red Cross to investigate fully all complaints made by the men.

Much of the friction between American prisoners and their guards, as well as between the men and some of the individual Germans for whom they work, appears to have developed out of attempts to escape. A few prisoners at II B were shot while attempting to escape about a year ago. Next of kin were notified of these Chronic overcrowding at the base camp, which contains French, Belgian, Italian, and Yugoslav as well as American prisoners of war; poor hospital facilities for the relatively high percentage of men at this camp needing proper medical care; and lack of adequate facilities for cooking, washing, and recreation - all contribute to making conditions at II B a matter for much concern.

Stalag Luft III

A cable received in New York by War Prisoners' Aid of the YMCA on July 7 quoted the following message sent to Geneva by Colonel Spivey, senior American officer at Stalag Luft

A new 2,000-man compound has recently been opened and is rapidly being filled with Americans. It is known as the West Compound, and Colonel Darr H. Alkire is senior officer.

Our athletic program (at Center Compound) is now going full blast. Softball is by far the most popular game and our need for balls, bats, and gloves is almost unlimited. Even older officers play this game, and we have one team of senior officers with six colonels on it.

A group of American officers at Oflag 64, early in February. Top row left to right: Lt. William Guest, Capt. Stephen Kane, Lt. Robert Aschim, Lt. Anthony Cipriani, Lt. Frank Aten. Bottom row: Lt. Harold Tallman, Lt. Burrows, Lt. Henry Perry, Lt. Sid Waldman.

Permit No. 84 Washington, D. C. DAID U. S. POSTAGE Sec. 562 P. L. & R.

The entertainment program is good, and the theater is filled almost every day. Our compound has two well-loved ministers, a U. S. Army Protestant chaplain, and an English Army Roman Catholic padre.

School and reference books recently received have filled a need felt since the opening of the camp. They have enabled new classes to be started and vacancies to be filled. Our nonlending library is crowded all day long with eager prisoners.

Please accept our gratitude and thanks for all YMCA assistance.

The camp staff at the all-American West Compound is composed of officers transferred from the Center and South Compounds. Captain Harold Fulghum is responsible for the distribution of YMCA supplies.

A separate report from a Delegate of the International Committee of the Red Cross who visited Luft III on May 22 stated that the camp was divided into six separate compounds -three American and three RAF. The latest report received by cable gave the number of American airmen-prisoners at Luft III as about 3,500. The Americans occupy the Center, West, and South Compounds; the British the North, East, and Belaria Compounds.

A cabled report on the Delegate's visit stated that the supply of kitchen utensils at Luft III was insufficient (a complaint now common to most German camps), that the supply of potatoes was deficient, that fresh vegetables were lacking, and that the meat furnished the men contained an excess of bones. The camp, however, was well stocked with Red Cross packages, and, the report added, "the preparation of Red Cross food was normal except for the scarcity of kitchenware.'

There were "well-established infirmaries" in the Center and East Compounds and a Lazarett with 105 beds. The newly arrived aviators at Luft III, the report stated, were receiving better care than in the Dulags (transit camps). Mail from the United States, "which is important for morale," was taking three to four months to reach the men at Luft III. The report, in conclusion, stated that discipline was severe since the attempted escapes "causing numerous deaths" from the North Compound, which is all RAF.

Stalag Luft VI

A recent report from War Prisoners' Aid of the YMCA stated that Sgt, James Deans (British) was the chief spokesman in Lager 1 at Stalag Luft VI, and that many noncommissioned airmen (British as well as American) had been transferred from Luft I to Luft VI, Luft VI was divided into several sections, or Lagers, each having its own spokesman, but with Sergeant Deans acting as spokesman for the entire Stalag. F/Sgt. Francis Paules (American) was spokesman for Lager 2, and Sgt. Victor Clarke for Lager 3. Except through the spokesmen, no contact was permitted between the different sections. All relief supplies for the camp were distributed through the spokesman's officer in Lager I.

Note: A late report by cable from Geneva stated that Stalag Luft VI was being closed and the Americans there transferred to Sta-lag Luft IV.

Stalag VII A

At the end of June there were reported to be about 1,000 American prisoners of war at Stalag VII Athe senior American officer being Maj. R. W. Crandall and the American camp spokesman T/Sgt. R. S. Mintz. The name of Capt. P. C. Graffagnino was given as the senior American medical officer.

Stalag VII A, located at Moosburg, near the former German-Austrian border, had separate sections divided by barbed wire for officers and men. The camp also contained a large number of British prisoners. Most of the enlisted men at VII A were assigned to work detachments outside the base camp. Living conditions in the work detachments were recently reported to be much better than at the Stalag.

Most of the Americans in VII A at the end of May had been captured in Italy, or had been transferred to Germany from Italian camps. They included officers, noncoms, and enlisted men. Recent arrivals were quarantined and deloused in the North Compound before admittance to the main camp. Stalag VII A has been kept well supplied with British and American Red Cross food packages; but, as in most German camps containing Americans, overcrowding was causing many complaints.

Stalag XVII B

A report prepared in June by T/Sgt. Alexander M. Haddon, educational director at the American compound in Stalag XVII B, listed the names of fellow-prisoners who were taking an active part in a educational programs for America Offlag 64 on June I was slightprisoners in this Stalag.

The listed included S/Sgt, Willias A. Ford (mathematics), S/Sgt. La. camps. The camp's reserve of Sversky (business law), T/Sgt. La. dramps. The camp's reserve of Cross food packages on that mimbered 4,445, or about an raphy), T/Sgt. H. M. Crain (compackage per man per week.) nomics), Azzan McKagan (America history), S/Sgt. Juan Gutierrez (Spa history), 3/5g, Juan Odhamel (French ish), T/Sgt. Jean Duhamel (French ish), T/Sgt. Jean Duhamel (French ish), T/Sgt. The are now a score or more S/Sgt. Adolf Blum (German, T/Sgt. The area of the scattered throughout German T. Talledge (auto mechanic where wounded wounded wounded the scattered throughout German T. Talledge (auto mechanic where wounded wounded the scattered throughout German T. Talledge (auto mechanic where wounded wounded the scattered throughout German T. Talledge (auto mechanic where wounded the scattered throughout German T. Talledge (auto mechanic where wounded the scattered throughout German T. Talledge (auto mechanic where wounded the scattered throughout German T. Talledge (auto mechanic where we wounded the scattered throughout German T. Talledge (auto mechanic where wounded the scattered throughout German T. Talledge (auto mechanic where we wounded the scattered throughout German T. Talledge (auto mechanic where we wounded the scattered throughout German T. Talledge (auto mechanic where wounded the scattered throughout German T. Talledge (auto mechanic where wounded the scattered throughout German T. Talledge (auto mechanic where wounded the scattered throughout German T. Talledge (auto mechanic where wounded the scattered throughout German T. Talledge (auto mechanic where wounded the scattered throughout German T. Talledge (auto mechanic where we wounded the scattered through the S/Sgt. Ned R. Herzstam (music T/Sgt. John L. Zusan and T/Sgt.

tober 1943, most of the American Looicus, Preparament' camp, now there being noncoms who were be ordinary course of events, the transferred from Stalag VII A. Man of them had reached Stalag VII he notice of the Mixed Medical from Italy. A great deal has ben mission with a view to repatriaaccomplished during the past ver Wounded airmen in occupied in helping the men to plan for postwar educational and vocational as tivities; but otherwise conditions a are fit to travel. Stalag XVII B, according to the latest reports from Geneva, are still far from satisfactory. This camp now being visited frequently, and

Stalag XVIII C (317)

When visited by a Delegate of the International Committee on Just of their wounds, in due course, ries the designation Stalag 317) ha a total strength of about 11,000 pra ents and Red Cross societies. oners of war, of whom 56 were Amen lecent reports have emphasized can. Most of the Americans had cont from Italy, and for them XVIII C was apparently intended only as 1 to manner as German patients, transit camp.

Conditions at XVIII C were reported by the Delegate to be go erally satisfactory, and disciplied good. A special kitchen had been organized for the approximately a now housing wounded Ameri-British prisoners at XVIII C, and are among the finest and best this was presumably shared by the pped military hospitals in Ger-Americans.

Oflag 64

A report from Col. Thomas Drake, senior American officer, stal that 2,431 letters and 1,857 post cal were mailed during May by Ame can prisoners of war at Offag 64. Dan ing the same month, 4,361 letter were delivered, the transit time half ing averaged 98 days.

he number of American prison-500, but the number has since increased by transfers from countries, where wounded rican prisoners of war are hos-Norris Miller (photography), S.S. arcans are airmen, and, as soon Gerard J. McKenna, T/Sgt. Edward J. McKenna, T/Sgt. John Hughes, St. Truscott, T/Sgt. John Hughes, St. Thomas C. Calhoun, and S/Sgt. War sent to the Oberursel internation center, then to the new lines D. King (librarians). am D. King (Ilibrarians).

Stalag XVII B was opened in Oct Luft transit camp at Wetzlar, sher 1943, most of the American Coblenz, preparatory to being itories are usually moved to Lazas inside Germany as soon as araretts housing prisoners of war visited from time to time by repmatives of the Protecting Power the men's complaints are being a laternational Red Cross, in the way that camps are visited. plete reports on the Lazaretts ed, the names of the patients furnished to the interested govprisoners of war in hospitals treated in every respect in the pt that armed guards are posted isoners' wards. When Swiss repmatives visit the Lazaretts, they permitted to talk with each paindividually. Some of the Lazaaccording to these reports. d Cross food and invalid sup-are sent from Geneva to all retts containing Allied prisoners.

TOOTH POWDER

report from Stalag Luft III that a number of weak conis of tooth powder in next-of-Parcels break in transit and spoil titems in the parcels.

TRANSPORT PROBLEMS

Land operations in France and Italy and the intensified bombing of Europe in recent months have had certain inevitable consequences. There has been a substantial increase in the number of American prisoners of war; the activities of the French underground had seriously disrupted rail transport and virtually closed the Mediterranean as the main artery for Red Cross supplies to reach the warehouses of the International Committee of the Red Cross in Switzerland; and the growing strain on transportation in Germany has impeded the flow of supplies from Switzerland to the camps. To these and other difficulties may soon be added the wholesale transfer of prisoners from camps in eastern Europe that lie in the path of the advancing Russian armies.

The American Red Cross foresaw months ago that serious transport and distribution problems lay ahead, and, with the wholehearted cooperation of the Swiss, built up large reserves of food packages and other supplies in Switzerland and in the camps where most of the American prisoners were held. But there are now fifty or more camps in Europe, and probably as many hospitals, housing American prisoners.

Moreover, a three months' reserve of supplies in a camp holding two or three thousand men quickly disappears when the number of prisoners is doubled within a very few weeks. New camps, particularly for airmen, have been established and rapidly filled without any advance warning so that an ample reserve of supplies could be built up. In consequence, some camps where the American strength was greatly increased may have had their supplementary reserves reduced, and in a few cases there were temporary interruptions in the distribution of food packages. In one or two such camps, where the German rations had been cut because of what was regarded as an excessive amount of Red Cross supplies, the rations were recently restored to normal.

Every possible effort has been made, and will of course continue to be made, to get adequate supplementary supplies to the camps both from the stocks still available in Switzerland and through other routes that are being opened because of the closing of Marseille as the main European port of entry for prisoner of war shipments. It will be appreciated, however, that on continents aflame with war from end to end the unmolested movements of shipping through combat zones must be discussed and arranged with foes as well as with Allies and neutrals. Such arrangements take considerable time to work out.

The same factors retarding the flow of relief supplies to the camps also apply to the receipt and dispatch of mail. Here the American postal authorities and all the interested Red Cross societies are doing their utmost to keep the mails moving with reasonable promptness; but relatives will understand that with the intensification of military operations the mail service, like the Red Cross supply service, will have increasingly serious handicaps to overcome. And if, as now seems likely, large transfers of prisoners from eastern Europe to the interior of Germany have taken or are taking place, the effect on mail will undoubtedly be felt. Despite all the efforts of the American and Swiss authorities to meet these new problems, temporary interruptions in the receipt and dispatch of mail may occur.

Many next of kin have inquired whether they should continue sending parcels and mail to prisoners held in Germany. Our advice is unreservedly that they Gilbert Redfern, Editor.

Report on Taiwan Camps

By John Cotton

A Delegate of the International Committee of the Red Cross made a second visit* to the Taiwan (Formosa) camps early in June 1944. He reported that there were nearly 2,400 United Nations prisoners of war in six camps and that 235 of these were Americans. Most of the Americans were in Camp IV, which was an officers' camp. Three of the highest ranking U. S. Army officers were held at Camp V along with a few British and Dutch high army officers and government officials. At Camp III and Camp VI there were a few Americans with large numbers of British prisoners, but Camps I and II contained only British.

Camps IV and V were relatively new camps, replacing those at Karenko and Tamazato which had been closed since the Delegate's visit in the previous year. The Delegate was not permitted to specify the location of the new camps.

Three meals were served daily. the basic food being rice, with bread served occasionally. The Delegate stated the rations were larger than for Japanese civilians. The daily rice ration was between 570 and 708 grams (20 to 25 ounces). A small amount of meat was served, plus supplements from livestock and chickens being raised by the prisoners. Other foods supplied were fat for cooking, potatoes and other vegetables, fruit in season, sugar, sweets on holidays, salt, tea, coffee. The Delegate reported the daily caloric value of the diet to be 2.800. Patients were said to receive a special diet of milk, eggs, soup, starch, and

*A report on the first visit was published in the September 1943 issue of PRISONERS OF WAR BULLETIN.

At the end of April there were reported to be 216 officers and men on the sick list (about 10 percent of the total number). This was less than half the number reported to be sick a year earlier. The average weight of all prisoners had increased from 129 pounds in June 1943 to 1341/2 pounds in April 1944, according to the report.

Seven hours' work daily was required of noncoms and enlisted men. The officers at Camp IV performed farm work two to three hours daily. Pay could be spent at canteens, which sold some food and a few other items. Religious services were held in English.

At the time of the visit the camp commanders were listing the names of prisoners who had not received any word from home, and these names were to be cabled to Gen by the Delegate.

Relief supplies shipped last to on the Gripsholm arrived on Ma and had been completely distribut

The needs of prisoners held by a d October. In addition to the Japan are fully understood by the atomatic speakers, Red Cross area at dapter speakers have conducted efforts to establish a route for the regular shipment of relief to the Far East have been reported in Presoners of War Bulletin. The fid tyment spokesman, and even, but the results are fully speakers of the results and the results are results. The fid tyment spokesman, and even, and even, and even, and even.

Kong recently reported that he bal ken taken prisoner. been able to send monthly packaged Most of the families already know of food to 19 Americans held in a much about camp conditions from Hong Kong prisoner of war camp at Bulletin. But parents and The packages delivered in the month wives and friends—in short, all those of November 1015. sauce, maize flour, and bran.

oners in Hong Kong are officers and they want to hear directly men of the vessel Admiral Y. S. III on the Red Cross or the "Y" or liams. Besides food packages, the be War Department exactly what lowances. Funds provided by the ad friends.
United States government were use By listenin United States government were used to pay for the food packages and thanging information and comparthe allowances.

Relatives' Meetings

and had been completely distributed by the time of the Delegate's varieties. These supplies consisted of 3,640 section 13-pound food packages; 63 section of the of medical supplies, including about a statisfactory ways to find out 200,000 vitamin tablets; 525 section out the prison camps their men heavy clothing; shoes; toilet artifule in is to go to relatives' meetings tobacco; religious materials, etc. if exchange information with The Delegate was able to interper prisoners' families. View representatives of the prison puring the past year Red Cross ers in each of the camps he vising upters throughout the United At Camp V General Wainview are have been sponsoring such stated that he found conditions writes. Red Cross national head-

At Camp V General Wainwrighters have been sponsoring such stated that he found conditions are dings. Red Cross national headgood as can be reasonably expected arters has been sending out speakers at the stated that the relief supplies to so many parts of the country to ceived were useful but that the relatives and friends what the canned food and warm clothing of Cross and other relief agencies, would be appreciated. Other proposed its UCA and the National Catholic need for more relief supplies at UCA and the National Catholic need for more relief supplies at UCA and the National Catholic need for more relief supplies at UCA and the National Catholic need for more relief supplies at UCA and the National Catholic need for more relief supplies at UCA and the National Catholic need for more relief supplies at UCA and the National Catholic need for more relief supplies at UCA and the National Catholic need for more relief supplies at UCA and the National Catholic need for more relief supplies at the Catholic need for more relief supplies at the UCA and the National Catholic need for more relief supplies at the UCA and the National Catholic need for more relief supplies at the UCA and the National Catholic need for more relief supplies at the UCA and the National Catholic need for more relief supplies at the UCA and the National Catholic need for more relief supplies at the UCA and the National Catholic need for more relief supplies at the UCA and the National Catholic need for more relief supplies at the UCA and the National Catholic need for more relief supplies at the UCA and the National Catholic need for more relief supplies at the UCA and the National Catholic need for more relief supplies at the UCA and the National Catholic need for more relief supplies at the UCA and the National Catholic need for more relief supplies at the UCA and the National Catholic need for more relief supplies at the UCA and the National Catholic need for more relief supplies at the UCA and the National Catholic need for more relief ers interviewed also expressed the dCA and the National Cathoucneed for more relief supplies and ellare Conference, are doing to better mail service. General Beds ing material and spiritual help to at Camp IV stated that because the merican prisoners in enemy hands. diet was deficient in protein and but the deficient in protein The needs of prisoners held by and October. In addition to the

that no further announcement has atment spokesman, and even, yet been made about the shipmen ben it is possible, a repatriated prisof supplies through a Soviet Pack ner. Audiences may range from a port does not mean that this mater andful of people in small, outlying is not being followed up vigorus mmunities which do not have my next of kin to some 3,000 AMERICANS IN HONG KONG tiends and relatives of prisoners of The Delegate of the Internation of in metropolitan centers from Committee of the Red Cross in Hore which large numbers of men have of November 1943, according to the stally interested in prisoners of war-Delegate's report, contained fred ant to know more than they can eggs, sugar, salted leeks, fried fel at from reading any printed mabananas, oranges, sausages, towall stal. American-like, they want to att together and talk things over, to All but one of the American prin impare ideas and notes on camp were also receiving pocket-money at his like for their sons and husbands > notes, many worried relatives can comforted and consoled. They help each other, and, in turn, are helped themselves.

Getting Together

Perhaps one of the most lasting benefits which come from these meetings is that relatives get to know each other. When six or seven next of kin of prisoners in Stalag XVII B, for example, get together and compare letters, it is fairly certain that these people will meet again and again. Whether they meet in the future under the auspices of the Red Cross or the YMCA is unimportant; what is important is that now they know each other and get together often.

The meetings are useful in other ways, too. Relatives of long-time prisoners have perhaps run out of ideas about what to put in their next-of-kin parcels, while the family of a newly captured prisoner wants the best possible advice on what to include in the first parcel. An exchange of ideas and experiences can be most helpful.

Typical of a next-of-kin meeting was one held recently in a chapter in upper New York state. The solemnity of the occasion was marked by the faces of the relatives as they filed into the auditorium. A great common bond had brought them there that night-all had sons, brothers, or husbands who were prisoners of war in Europe or the Far

At the information desk, mothers and fathers paused to look at the large framed maps showing the locations of camps. A little farther on relatives saw, many of them for the first time, the Red Cross food packages which are mentioned so frequently in prisoners' letters. Near the food packages was a photograph of the "capture" parcel. Many relatives had not known there were such things; they expressed surprise and gratitude for them. Many of them had wondered what the men did for such necessities as razors and toothbrushes and towels before they received them from home or obtained them through the International Red Cross.

Addressing Meetings

When all the people were seated, the meeting was called to order. The speaker from Red Cross national headquarters, herself the mother of a prisoner of war, gave the background of the Geneva Convention and described how the American Red Cross works through the International Committee to deliver food, clothing, medicines, and other supplies. This information was followed by specific items of late news about various camps.

Following the Red Cross speaker, a representative of War Prisoners' Aid of the YMCA described from firsthand experience the camps in Germany he had visited, and told the audience of the work of the "Y" in getting books and musical instruments and sports equipment to the camps. But the highlight of that evening was a de-scription of life in a German prisoner of war camp by a repatriated prisoner. Following the speeches, the listeners were urged to ask any questions which occurred to them. At all relatives' meetings arranged by the Red Cross, the speakers make every effort to answer as many questions as possible. For the questions left over, answers are prepared and sent by mail from the chapter to those questioners who have given their names and addresses.

Other Red Cross chapters throughout the country have different methods of handling relatives' meetings. In many cases, they are divided into Far Eastern and European, meeting on different nights so that a greater degree of specialized information may be introduced, while in communities where there are a large number of relatives the "breakdown" extends to camps. The relatives of men in Stalag II B, for instance, have more directly in common with each other than they have with the relatives of men in Stalag Luft III. The over-all picture may affect all prisoners alike, but life and conditions in a work camp for enlisted men can be altogether different from those in a Luftwaffe camp for airmen.

FOOD COVERS

Food covers have been suggested by repatriated prisoners of war as useful and inexpensive items to include in next-of-kin parcels. Pieces of gauze or mosquito netting or small cotton napkins would meet the need. Incidentally, these small pieces make good fillers for the loose space in next-of-kin parcels.

Workers in Shanghai office of the International Red Cross forwarding parcels to civilian internees held in the old U.S. Marine barracks at Haiphong Road.

INQUIRIES REGARDING PRISONERS

Cable inquiries to the International Committee of the Red Cross at Geneva regarding American prisoners of war reported wounded, injured, or seriously sick are handled through the Prisoner of War Information Bureau. Office of the Provost Marshal General, War Department, Washington 25, D. C. Next of kin should accordingly send such inquiries to the address given, and not to the American Red Cross or the International Committee. Any reply which is received will be made direct to the next of kin by Prisoner of War Information Bureau.

The Office of the Provost Marshal General, however, wishes next of kin to be informed that such cable inquiries will be made only when there is definite information as to serious wounds, injuries, or sickness. Similarly, all inquiries pertaining to American personnel reported to have died in enemy hands should be addressed to Prisoner of War Information Bureau.

Red Cross chapters throughout the United States have been furnished with detailed information concerning the types of inquiries that may be addressed to the Prisoner of War Information Bureau.

Deliveries to Prison Camps

Receipts for Supplies

All shipments of relief supplies from the warehouses of the International Committee of the Red Cross to prisoner of war and civilian internee camps in Europe are accompanied by two kinds of receipt.

First, there is the camp spokesman's receipt (specimen on opposite page) which goes out in triplicate. After the goods are received and checked, two copies of the receipt are signed and returned to the International Committee at Geneva. One copy is kept at Geneva and the other forwarded to national headquarters of the American Red Cross. The third copy is kept by the camp spokesman for his records. All supplies shipped by the Red Cross from the United States must eventually be accounted for by camp leader receipts, or a satisfactory explanation given why any missing items failed to reach the camps. Complete and identical records of shipments and deliveries are kept by the International Committee in Geneva and the American Red Cross in Washington.

The collective receipt, on the top, contains a number, the date of dispatch of the goods from Switzerland, the consignment number, the nationality of the prisoners for whom the shipment is intended, and the address and code number of the camp. In the center part of the camp spokesman's receipt, on the left side, the following information is given: origin, shipment, code number, name and quantity of parcels, articles, and gross weight in kingrams. On the right side the spokes man gives the amounts actually received and notes the shortages, any. So far the losses have being lightly amounting to less that one percent of the goods shipped from Switzerland. Space is also vided on the receipt for the spokes man to comment about the condition of the goods on arrival, or for any other remarks he desires to make

Second, each standard food pack age shipped from the United State contains an individual receipt mad up in the form of a post card. The prisoner receiving the package sign and mails the card (specimen on opposite page). The address of the American Red Cross in Washingon is printed on the other side of the card. Hundreds of thousands of the post cards have already been some by nationality, and filed alpha betically at national headquaters the Red Cross in Washington in the case of the American prisoners. The work is done mainly by women valunteers.

It usually takes about four or for months for these receipt cards we reach Washington from Europea camps, which means that almost a year elapses between the shipping of a food package on a Red Cross we sel from Philadelphia and the return to Washington of the receipt card which the volunteer worker at one of the packaging centers placed in the package.

"GEFANGENEN GAZETTE"

("Prisoners' Gazette")

PRISONERS OF WAR BULLETIN a publishing this month a 16-page-sup plement of cartoons, sketches, and articles reproduced from Gefangeren Gazette, the camp newspaper prepared thrice weekly by American prisoners of war at the Center Compound, Stalag Luft III, under the editorship of Lt. Ronald T. Delancter

This supplement is being sent to all those who receive Prisoners of War Bulletin, as well as to Red Cross chapters throughout the United States and should arrive a week or so after the September Bulletin.

TANKS AMERICAN RED CROSS AMERICAN RED CROSS RECEIPT FOR PRISONER OF WAR PACKAGE RECEIPT FOR PRISONER OF WAR PACKAGE AROLD TECH. SGT. food peckage from THE AMERICAN NATIONAL RED m THE AMERICAN NATIONAL RED Pyt. Theo W. Stillinger american AMERICAN RED CROSS MAL Torm 1829 AMERICAN RED CROSS RECEIPT FOR PRISONER OF WAR PACKAGE RECEIPT FOR PRISONER OF WAR PACKAGE 1 = LT. F.C. Stalag II/A Gennaly (Name day one food package from THE AMERICAN NATIONAL RED CROSS through the International Red Cross Committee. GERNANY Guttong Les (Buckley RS. Thonkyos Keylow odey one food package from THE AMERICAN NATIONAL RED Date mucey 28, 1944 Nationality American AMERICAN RED CROSS MAY RECEIPT FOR PRISONER OF WAR PACKAGE MAY Ber Feb. 190 AMERICAN RED CROSS RECEIPT FOR PRISONER OF WAR PACKAGE RECEIPT Nº E/1244/GG Monality americans. Nationality; AMERICAN STALAG 11/B HAMERROTEIN Write here what you have rece AM 44 1 foodparcels ALLOWANCE FOR 1 MONTH AND 124 FOOLPARCELS FOR RESERVE AMERICAN Representative of the EXXX P. O. W. of camp $$ $ $ $ 10 9 $ $ (2) 8. Homewers seen AMERICAN RED CROSS Signature: Annua Property Date: 2/5/p1. -/9+3

Do not forget to fill, sign and return the

MAP CHANGES

Readers who are keeping up to date the map of prisoners of war camps in Europe, published in the June BULLETIN, may add Stalag Luft IV in square B9 (north of Stalag I IB and near the Polish-German frontier); Stalag Luft VII, located at Bankau, Upper Silesia, near the bottom of square D9 on the German side of the Polish-German frontier; Oflag IX A/H, at Spangenberg, in square D5 (north of Laz, Stadtroda); the new Stalag VIII B (on the Polish-Czechoslovak frontier) in square E9; and Stalag XII A, at Limburg, in square D4. Res. Lazarett Hildburghausen, which contains wounded American airmen, may also be added in square C6, just below Stalag IX C. The Dulag Luft transit camp for airmen has been moved from Frankfurt/Main to Wetzlar, on the opposite side of the Rhine from Stalag VI G, but the map square (D4) is unchanged.

The Rumanian camp for airmen at Timis (square H12) should be placed between Brasov and Sinaia in square H13. A report by cable from Geneva stated that there had been a substantial increase in the number of American prisoners in Rumania. Wounded American airmen were recently reported to be in a military hospital near Bucharest, others in a hospital at Belgrade, Yugoslavia, and a few at Bratislava, in Slovakia.

From Far Eastern Camps

Java Undated (Received at Amarillo, Texas, March 29, 1944)

Dear Mother and Father:

I have received permission from the Japanese authorities to again write about my life here in Java. I am one of the camp cooks. We prepare the daily rations of food. We receive meat, potatoes, and vegetables which we make into a (samoe?) which is very tasty. I would like, though, to get some of the food which was for the family meals while I was at home.

My work is not too hard. It helps me pass the time away before the war is finished and I am again able to be home with

I want to thank you very much for your kind action in sending me the very useful package. I wonder how Dad and his work are going on nowadays. Please do not worry about me for in all ways but my desire to see you again I am all right.

I haven't as yet received a letter from you all. But other prisoners are getting let-ters, and so I think in the near future I may receive one from you. Please, from time to time write me so that I will be sure to receive a letter from you.

I do want the war out here to end very soon so that we can be sent back home to our loved ones. It is very difficult to find an interesting topic on which to write about, for I know the conditions at home have changed very much since I last saw you. Also, life here is about the same every day. The Japanese Red Cross Society has been very helpful to us because their office makes it possible for us to write home. Time is always my enemy for I see I must go back to my old waiting and hoping for a quick relief. Please write soon to your loving son.

> Zentsuji War Prison Camp, Japan December 1943 (Received at Washington, D. C., August 9)

Dear Mother:

Message No. 8. During past few weeks have received 12 letters, latest being your No. 33 of Sept. 12. You can't imagine how No. 35 of Sept. 12. You can't imagine now much pleasure they give me. Thank Dotea for her two. Mail and packages which arrived on exchange ship are still being distributed and I should receive your package in the next few days. It will certainly be the grandest Christmas present I ever had. Two more letters will make your series from 20 to 33 complete. To answer a few of your questions: Bassett, Wilson, and I are the only Pope personnel in this camp. Regret that I can give you no additional information on others. There are 29 English, Dutch, Australian, and American officers in my room, and, as you suspect, I have made a number of friends among the nearly 700 residents here. Jake Vandergrift, Mead Willis, Hugh Mellon, Ed Wood, and Joe Martin are some of the naval officers. Yes, I have gained weight since that picture was taken-all the way to 140 pounds. Since someone would mention bridge, I'll admit that I have become rather proficient. Have read 135 assorted books in my spare time in addition to daily paper and weekly magazine. From your letters I judge that getting married has become a national pastime. Hope there will be a few eligible girls left. Give my love to the family .-Flash-Your box arrived Dec. 13. It exceeds my fondest expectations.

my fondest expectations.

(A postcard from the above prisoner, dated January 25, read: "Since signing my letter I have received 15 of your earlier communications, 7 on my birthday [January 18]. Am still enjoying your parcel. I have heard from Michel, but repret that I cannot answer from the still enjoying your parcel. I have heard from Michel, but repret that I cannot answer from the L. S. S. Pope who was transferred from a camp in Janu to one on the Japanese mainland. The writer of the above letter has increased in weight Transfer from the Communication, was an officer on the U.S. S. Pope who was transferred from a camp in Janu to one on the Japanese mainland. The writer of the above letter has increased in weight Transfer from the Communication of the communication of the property of t

Zentsuji, Japan December 1943 (Received at Anniston, Alabama, July 31, 1944)

My Dearest Mother:

Words can't express my happiness in re-ceiving your first letter, dated 23rd August, and one from Mrs. Stoy, on Thanksgiving Day. I'm expecting the package any day now. Many thanks. Camp life is same as I've mentioned. I'm in the best of health and time passes quickly. We're planning for a big Christmas. Did you hear my broadcast to you over Radio Tokyo?

Mother, my thoughts are ever with you and I hope we'll be together soon. Letters mean much; write often; tell my friends to do same; and send some pictures as I have none. I'll be thinking of everyone this Christmas. Love and best wishes to all, especially you.

From European Camps
Oflag 64

February 20

Dear Family:

Last week a couple of guys and myself started a "mart" here in camp. Every parcel a lot of variation in the values. So we set a price in points on all food and cigarettes, and opened a store for two hours a day where a person can turn in or take out items at their points' value. It works very well, and is also something to keep us occupied. Powdered milk is tops at 150 points; coffee is 110 points; jam (British) is 80 points; first grade cigarettes are 15 points a pack. All Red Cross items are valued,

BACK NUMBERS

The relatives of newly reported prisoners of war frequently desire to see back numbers of Prisoners of War Bulletin, and all Red Cross chapters have previously been urged to keep at least one complete set on file. Several cases have recently been reported of relatives visiting a chapter only to find that a complete file of Bulletins was not being kept.

Some issues of Volume I are now out of print, but copies of Volume II (from January 1944 on) may still be obtained from area offices or by writing direct to Prisoners of War Bulletin at national headquarters.

and lots of private parcel items-sugum, 10 points a pack; vitamin pi less to say, cost of the original articles to say, cost of the original articles not considered, but only its need here I went skating for the second time in

It was good fun, and the sun was sain so brightly we weren't cold at all.

Mail is very slow lately, but I know are all fine, though I am anxious to some more photos.

Stalag Luft (Received at Seattle, W. May

Dear Folks:

Yours Sept. 23, Oct. 20-26, Nov. 6, At first year of German military improduce German newspapers and follow on ment draws to a close, I can look base unhappy months and recall definite menstages through which all American pri ers of war seem to struggle. When first arrives at this fantastic place of ban hirst arrives at this failure of place of bone wire and armed sentry towers, the send more time out of doors, which american "Kriegie" is fresh from de thusiasm of stupendous scientific account of the stupendous scientific account of the stupendous scientific account of the stupendous said a score before the science of the stupendous said a score before the science of the scienc erty, he retains his enthusiasm and is her a Som lessly optimistic. The war will end was ago. three months! He lazily loafs, licking sure to send clothing and also a pair three wounds, tells and listens to seem clothing and also a pair three wounds, tells and listens to riesn wounds, tells and listens to traising "there I wur" stories. After a new time begins to drag. He gets the educated deal of news to write about from bug. He takes up German, French, chology, math., and animal husbar three mounts page the way were trained and the property of the page to th Three months pass, the war progress; its own slow fashion, and time really le to creep. He is still optimistic, Home Christmas!

Crowded quarters discourage scholar concentration. Classes taught by incuenced fellow prisoners fail to make a plass quickly, it this such as state to ord from a prisoner in Camp Hoten, debates, choirs, dramatic, and camp duria, received in Brooklyn on July 11, nalism. Time passes a little faster loss these activities occupy both mind a package. Overjoyed to receive them."

energy.

Christmas arrives. The war plots and onward. The disappointed prisone of wimind shifts gears. Instead of predicing, begins to wonder when it will eal, entire year passes and barbed wie pens him in. Now he expects nothing merely waits, Like a Chimese pullosophes patiently waits. Some day, the war made and happy permanently."

Dear Mom:

Spring and a "promise" aren't with all our song-fests, cutting up at crafts exhibition, swing band, see quiz shows, debates, sports, etc. We times carry on far into the night. Spring and a "promise" aren't w might as well get all the fun we can wo might as well get all the fun we are the opportunity arises. I just red the opportunity arises. I just red the opportunity arises. I just red take in Washington, D. C., who sent sure made me feel old. I still get a late through the Red Cross last Februarius. of the church service. I'm geting this description, D. C., who sent set of the church service. I'm geting this daughter interned in Manila rewas listening to an accordionist, who was a cable on July 19 replying to the all the songs the Lantzes used to P do our own laundry, but there's no are criticize the "tattle-tale-gray." some delightful snowstorms. I still be everything at home is O. K.

Dear Mother, Dad, and Sisters.

Just a few lines to let you know
O. K. and no longer in the hospital.

an camp. There are nine Americans Englishman, so there isn't a dull as you can guess. Some of the boys w my buddies at radio and gunnery we've had some interesting con-One of the boys is from Ohio we have a lot in common. my regards to everyone and remem-bright day I'll be home again.

Stalag Luft III April 7 (Received at Washington, D. C.

July 18)

wother and Father: more mail has come, but each day I nore hopeful. A group of new POW's ad here only recently. It may be my ation but they seem so young. We the progress of Uncle Joe and we wondering what, if anything, Uncle longer and somewhat warmer send more time out of doors, which Some had been in the States a month

sure to send clothing and also a pair

Group of unidentified American prisoners at Stalag III B. Sent by Pvt. Seymour Rayack, second from left in front row.

Extracts from Letters

Far Eastern

package. Overjoyed to receive them.

lorporal at Osaka Camp, Japan, wrote is family in Birmingham, Michigan, in "I celebate each memorable occasion. ings you all a little closer. Shove another up to the table for I'm coming home and see you and Dad are made

Stalag Land broadcast message from an American March 5, 19 cat Taiwan on March 14 acknowledged

ent on Gripsholm last fall] on January etter from Stalag III B received in Co-South Carolina, on July 13 said in The last time we got parcels from I got nine cartons of cigarettes and arcel. It was very welcome, too. g cards are much in demand as everyays bridge constantly."

European

prisoner will receive a deck of his Red Cross Christmas package.)

"You ask me if I had got any of the packages you sent me," wrote a prisoner in Stalag II B to his mother in Painton, Missouri, on May I. "No, I haven't. I have been a prisoner over a year now and haven't got anything from home yet."

An airman at Luft III wrote to a friend in Washington in April, "Articles I could use: wire cutters, shovel, pick, old balloon with several tubes of hydrogen, time bomb pistol, helicopter, smoke bomb, and a few other minor articles."

A private at Stalag III B wrote to the Red Cross on April 21, 1944: "... Dignity is a matter of appetite; and you keep us proud. When the debacle is over, I think few men in retrospect will hold anything much dearer than the memory of a simple cardboard carton which has emblazoned the symbol of the crimson cross indelibly on their hearts. God bless and perpetuate you. We send our snappiest salute

On February 19, a staff sergeant in a hospital in Germany wrote his wife in Atlanta as follows: "My back and both pelvis bones were broken and I owe my life to a German doctor. War is a crazy game. The very people who are supposed to be your enemies do everything possible to save your life. I came down near a farm and the old lady was as good to me and as sympathetic as a mother would have been."

A lieutenant at Luft III wrote in March to his parents in Montclair, New Jersey: Incidentally, I understand some girls in the States are concerned over possible com petition from the German damsels. Maybe once a month we see one walk down a road a couple of hundred yards out of camp.

From an American airmen's camp in Germany an officer wrote in March to his family in Ohio, "People back home seem to be laboring under a misapprehension. Through the medium of the Red Cross and other organizations your conception of our home here has been distorted. We are not living in a 'Cabin in the Pines,' The height of something or other was reached the other day when one of the fellows received a book entitled 'The Bride's War Economy Cook Book,' or something like that. It is a very nice book and would be fine for a bride in the States. However, in looking over the recipes, we found that none of them could he used because of a lack of certain ingredients. Please don't worry about these cracks. I'm in a bad mood today. (See if you can get this published.)"

In a letter to his wife at Jersey City, New Jersey, received August 2, the senior American officer at Stalag Luft III wrote: "The Red Cross has sent us summer clothes (khaki) so now we are all set for warm weather. They have also sent seeds for our gardens, and we are busy planting. It gives us work. I have had more than 99 percent of all my men well at all times." This letter was written on April 20.

In another letter dated "Good Friday" Colonel Spivey wrote: "Today ends Lent so I am reminded that such things as festivals, dances, and happiness still exist in this world. I wish it were possible for me to personally tell every citizen what a blessing and heritage he has and to impress on him his duty to cherish them. I feel particularly comforted by Easter because of its assurance that nothing can defeat the purpose of God-not even death.

SPECIAL SERVICES FOR PRISONERS

Among the activities of the American Red Cross, through the International Committee of the Red Cross, with respect to relief to prisoners of war are optical, dental, and orthopedic services.

In all European prisoner of war camps, the Detaining Power provides eye examination service. The prescriptions written by the camp optometrist are sent to the Mixed Committee of the International Committee of the Red Cross and the League of Red Cross Societies in Geneva where a large pool of glasses has been established for filling these prescriptions. Should the pool be unable to fill a special prescription for an American prisoner of war, the Geneva representative of the American Red Cross has instructions to procure the glasses in Switzerland and send them to the prisoner.

While the Detaining Power is supposed to provide all medical and surgical supplies needed for the treatment of prisoners of war, recent reports have indicated a shortage of certain drugs, bandages, and surgical instruments in some German camps. In order that American prisoners of war might not suffer from lack of these, the American Red Cross has sent medical and surgical supplies valued at more than $100,-000 to the International Committee for distribution as needed in hospitals where Americans are being treated. Should special medicines be required, the American Red Cross representative at Geneva has blanket authority to purchase them in Switzerland if possible. In addition, standard medical kits are provided for first aid use in all camps where Americans are held.

Each camp usually has its own dentist. This dentist may be a German, or an American, or another Allied dentist who is a prisoner of war. Here, too, shortages have been reported, and the American Red Cross has shipped dental supplies valued at approximately $12,000 to the International Committee for distribution wherever needed. If special dental treatment is required by an American prisoner of war, it is paid for out of a revolving fund established by the American Red Cross with its representative at Geneva.

(Continued on page 12)

Noncommissioned officers, prisoners of war at Stalag Luft III. Sent by Cpl. Jack River second from left, top row.

MAIL SERVICE

other exchange mission, left New York on August 23 carrying about 12,000 sacks of mail and next-ofkin parcels. This shipment should reach the Swedish port of Göteborg on September 8, and from there be transferred to a north German port.

The Mangalore and Travancore left the United States in July for Marseille carrying over 2500 sacks of mail and next-of-kin parcels. As they could not unload at Marseille, due to disturbances in southern France, these two ships with their Red Cross cargoes and mail were rerouted from the Mediterranean to Sweden and were due to reach Göteborg early in September. Their cargoes and mail are likewise to be transferred to a north German port.

As a further facility for movement of Red Cross goods and mail, the American Red Cross has procured a fleet of 50 heavy trucks. These are now on their way to Europe to be turned over to the International Committee of the Red Cross to carry goods and mail from Spanish or French ports into Switzerland, as soon as a route can be opened through southern France.

Air mail to Europe is still functioning normally, but there are increasing delays in censorship in Europe because the number of German prisoners, and also of

The M. S. Gripsholm, on an- Allied prisoners, is greatly increasing the volume of mail.

VOL. 2, NO

In any case, continue to write regularly-and not too lengthily. if you wish to avoid bottlenecks in foreign censorship. And send your next-of-kin parcel to Europe as soon as you receive your label.

The United States government, the Post Office Department, and the American Red Cross are constantly doing everything possible to keep the channels for mail and packages open to Europe.

Far East also continues to function regularly via Tehran. Mail is flown from here to Tehran and then goes by rail and water to Japan and other Far Eastern points. The Japanese request "no individual next-of-kin parcels," but the 24-word messages can be sent by air as often as you wish to write. The United States government

A large shipment of mail from American prisoners in the Far East also reached the United States late in July on the S. S. Stavros from Europe. This mail came via Switzerland. Although only a relatively few cards and letters were dated, most of them appeared to have been written be tween October 1943 and February 1944. Only a few cards from civilians were included in this ship ment, but almost all the prisoner of war camps containing Amer icans were represented.

OUESTIONS AND ANSWERS

husband is a prisoner of war Oflag 64, in former Poland. hen the Russians occupy that ritory, what will become of used on last year's experiences Sicily and Italy, and on recent orts from Eastern Galicia, the mption is that the German auprities will move prisoners of in advance of the entry of jed forces. A year ago when merican prisoners were transpred from Italy to Germany seval months elapsed before new permanent" camp addresses were ly son, an American prisoner Germany at Stalag Luft VI. ager 2, tells me to address letters him at Stalag Luft III. Why is his, and what should I but on the envelope?

All letters for airmen are cenpred at Stalag Luft III and hould be addressed there. If the isoner is in another camp, howver, that address should also be iven in brackets. It is probable hat your son, since you last heard from him, has been transferred Stalag Luft IV, as Luft VI has een closed. Presumably mail already sent to Stalag Luft III (Staag Luft VI) will be delivered to luft IV. Next-of-kin parcels Airplane service for mail to the should be addressed direct to the camp where the prisoner is held, and not to Stalag Luft III.

> Is there a Japanese prison camp miled Niigata? If so, could you lease give me some information out it? I have never seen it menoned in the BULLETIN.

> vas informed recently that a risoner of war camp at Niigata, elonging to the Tokyo group f camps and located on the north toast of the main island of Japan, orth of Tokyo, was opened about year ago. It is understood to Ontain American prisoners from he Philippines, and British, Caadian, and Dutch prisoners from long Kong. The number of mericans in this Niigata camp reported to be about 200, induding a few officers. No visits International Red Cross Dele gates to the camp have been reported.

Q. Do our men know their rights as prisoners of war?

A. The Army now supplies men at the front with a booklet entitled "If You Should Be Captured." It explains briefly the rights of prisoners, and tells them to ask their captors for copies of the Geneva Convention, in English, so that they may know all their rights.

Q. I was presented with an "Air Corps" medal for my son in a German prisoner of war camp. Would it be all right to tell him about it in a letter?

A. Because of censorship regulations concerning military matters, it will not be advisable for you to tell your son about his medal.

Q. Is it permissible for a woman in the service (Wac, WAVE, etc.) to write to a prisoner of war? If so, may she give her address, tell of her work, where stationed, and the like?

A. A woman in the service may write to a prisoner of war, but she should not mail the letter from an army or navy post. Nor should she mention her work in any way, or even the fact that she is in the service. She should write on plain letter paper, and take or send the letter outside the post to be mailed. A civilian address should be given as her return address on the envelope.

O. My son has sent a card from Stalag Luft III stating that he is a POW. well and uninjured. Is there any chance of his being exchanged?

A. No. Able-bodied prisoners of war are not exchanged before the cessation of hostilities. The exchanges of which you have heard are principally of civilian internees or of seriously sick and wounded prisoners of war. Provision is made in the Geneva Prisoners of War Convention for the repatriation of seriously sick and wounded prisoners of war, while the Geneva Red Cross Convention provides in certain circumstances for the repatriation of medical and other "protected" personnel.

O. My brother is a sergeant in the Air Force, now held at Stalag Luft III. I notice we can send him in our next-of-kin package "standard phonograph records and needles." Are there enough record players available for the enlisted men at this camp so that these are good items to include? Also, are there any types of records that cannot be sent?

A. Stalag Luft III is one of the older and well-established camps, so it is probable that record players would be available and records much appreciated. They must, of course, be very carefully packed. The same sort of censorship is given to records as to books, so the same sort of matter would probably be forbidden by the German censors. It is necessary to avoid any questionable material (for instance, patriotic songs), in order that the continued sending of records may not be endangered. The latest song hits are much liked by the men, but, because of the censorship problem, they should not have a military or patriotic theme.

Q. In a letter from a prison camp in Germany my son refers to the "Man of Confidence." What does he mean?

A. "Man of Confidence" is the literal translation of Homme de Confiance used in the French text of the Geneva Prisoners of War Convention. The Homme de Confiance is the elected representative of the prisoners in a camp containing enlisted men, or the senior officer in an officers' camp. The Germans refer to him as the camp leader; we call him the camp spokesman; and the British often call him the camp captain. Regardless of his military rank, the camp spokesman in a German Stalag (even if it contains officer-prisoners) represents all the prisoners of his nationality in relations with the German authorities, the Protecting Power, and welfare agencies.

Q. I heard from a friend that it is possible to write to an unreported prisoner in the Far East through the Red Cross.

A. No, it is not possible. What may have been meant is that it is possible to send a Red Cross message every three months to uninterned civilians in the Far East.

(Continued from page 10)

While prisoners who have lost a limb are given temporary replacements by their captors, both the British Red Cross Society and the American Red Cross are interested in providing their respective nationals with the best permanent mechanical limbs as soon as possible. To accomplish this, arrangements have been made through the International Committee for a Swiss Orthopedic Mission to visit all camps and measure British and American prisoners of war for artificial limbs. These artificial limbs, which are manufactured in Switzerland at the expense of the American Red Cross in the case of American prisoners, are then taken to the camps by the Orthopedic Mission for fitting.

DISPOSING OF EARTH

At one of the largest camps for American prisoners of war in Germany the authorities have refused to permit the men to plant the vegetable and garden seeds sent by the Red Cross. The reason given for this order was that the cultivation of a vegetable garden offered a convenient means of disposing of earth which men accumulate when digging escape tunnels under the barbed wire.

Loading Canadian and American Red Cross supplies for prisoners of war on the N Travancore at Philadelphia July. The Travancore, a sister ship of the M. S. Mane-which joined the Red Cross fleet last January, is the latest addition to the fear.

BACK ISSUES OF "LIFE"

Last March Life magazine asked its readers to save back copies of Life for returning prisoners of war. Reader response to Life's appeal was very generous, but many of the readers who have kept back copies cannot continue to hold them for lack of storage space.

If families of prisoners of war who would like to have complete his be persistence and ginning with the December 8, 1 issue, they may get them from so Life subscriber who is cooperate in this project. Life will arrange the shipment. Inquiries or requ should be addressed to Life B Copies, 9 Rockefeller Plaza, N York 20, New York.

b is guaranteed.

smoster-It addressee has removed and new ad-

sexeT SI mitsuA The University of Texas Library Serials Acquisition

Permit No. 84 Washington, D. C. DAID U. S. POSTAGE Sec. 562 P. L. & R.

Return Postage Guaranteed Low

Washington 13, D. C. The American National Red Cross Va bahzilduq

SEPTEMBER 1944 Prisoners of War Bulletin

sefangenen Gazette 34

SPECIAL SUPPLEMENT TO PRISONERS OF WAR BULLETIN

ad by the American National Red Cross for the Relatives of American Prisoners of War and Civilian Internees hington, D. C.

September 1944

pelmar T. Spivey, senior officer at Stalag Luft III, the editor of PRISONERS OF LETIN a complete file of the n Gazette from October to April 9, 1944.

(Prisoners') Gazette d, by hand and typewriter, mes weekly, with a Sunday ent of colored cartoons, by n airmen-prisoners at the Compound. When sending Colonel Spivey wrote:

for this paper is given to Ronald T. Delaney, who, ost adverse circumstances as have requested back copies of taxial and subject matter, has persistence and initiative to a

There are some 4,500 young American airmen at Luft III, and the articles and cartoons in the Gazette throw a vivid light on camp conditions and on how the men there are temporarily adapting their lives to an atmosphere that must be completely alien to them.

It is unfortunately a physical impossibility to make the complete file available to all families of the men at Luft III, and to the many other families of American prisoners of war who would surely find it intensely interesting. PRISONERS OF WAR BUL-LETIN, however, has prepared this special supplement made up entirely of extracts, drawings, and cartoons, taken more or less at random, from the Gefangenen Gazette. No editing has been done here, but, of course, every issue has to be approved by the German commander before it goes on the camp bulletin board.

Stalag Luft III, which, like all other camps for airmen, is under the control of the Luftwaffe, is probably the best established camp for Americans in Germany. Enlisted men in the Stalags, and especially on work detachments, have much less opportunity for study and play than officerprisoners have.

> GILBERT REDFERN, Editor Prisoners of War Bulletin

