Camp Movements

This issue of the BULLETIN contains a revised map showing the location of German camps and hospitals where American prisoners of war are held. The map is based on information received here to December 31, 1944, but the Russian advances in January will have brought many changes.

During December, word was received that Stalag 357, near Torun, had been moved. Stalag XX A was also probably moved from Torun. These camps contained mainly British prisoners. The men at Offag 64, the principal camp for American ground force officers, at Szubin (Altburgund), which was in the general vicinity of Stalag XX A and Stalag 357, were presumably moved to the interior of Germany in January, although they were still at Szubin on January 5. Hammerstein, the town nearest to Stalag II B, one of the largest camps for Americans, appeared to be in Russian hands when this was written on January 27.

It must be expected that some, if not all, of the prisoners of war at Stalag VIII B, Stalag 344, B.A.B. 20, B.A.B. 21, Stalag Luft VII, and at other camps in and around Silesia, were moved. These, also, were largely British camps, but some of them contained Americans. There were other camps and work detachments scattered throughout eastern Europe containing Allied prisoners of various nationalities. Grosstychow, in Pomerania, where Stalag Luft IV with its large complement of British and American airmen was located, was close to the combat zone in late January.

While under reasonably quiet conditions it is easy for the German authorities to move an Offag or a Stalag Luft, where all the prisoners are behind barbed wire, the orderly transfer of scores of thousands of men from Stalags with far flung work detachments would need much advance preparation. A camp like 344 at Lamsdorf, for instance, had about 30,000 men (principally British) on work detachments over a large area. So, too, had Stalag II B. Before these men could be moved in anything like orderly fashion, they would first have to be assembled at the base camp.

It will probably be some weeks yet before a full report is received on camp changes which have taken place during January, but, as authoritative information comes through, it will be promptly released to the public. Every effort is being made by the American authorities and the Red Cross to obtain this information. Arrangements were made well ahead so that the needs of any Allied prisoners falling into Russian hands during the present advance would be met.

Until next of kin are advised by the Office of the Provost Marshal General of a change of address, they should continue sending mail to the old address.

Up to late January, the German authorities had given no indication of the to which American prisoners captured on the western front in the second half of December had been assigned, but seriously wounded Americans who were repatriated by air in the latter part of January stated that several hundred officers had reached Oflag 64 early in the month, and that about 1,500 additional enlisted men had reached Stalag II B. Several thousand newly captured Americans also reached Stalag IV B at Mühlberg in January. Large shipments of Red Cross supplies were made last November and December to German camps and hespitals containing Americans, so that the needs of the men captured in the December action on the western front had been in large part anticipated. If some of these men now show up at camps not already serviced, the International Committee of the Red Cross at Geneva has standing instructions to forward supplies instantly word is received of new camps for Americans. There is also a pooling arrangement, which has worked admirably, between the American and British Commonwealth Red Cross societies whereby our prisoners receive British food and clothing when American supplies are not immediately available, and vice versa.

A report by cable received on h November, and that, in Decemb begin the ice hockey season. A til next summer, if necessary.

A new American compound. an adjoining camp known as Belare was expected to open shortly.

Permission had been obtained to Mr. Soederberg of War Prisone Aid to visit Luft III on Christma can officer, and Col. Delmar T. Spd Cross at the end of February vey, at the center compound. Christ $40,000,000 in supplies in had reached the camp early in Ders. British Commonwealth Red

PICTURES

(Continued from page 10)

claims of identification based of

Whenever the individuals in names as given. In the case of pies indeed to prison camps, and tures of Americans taken by delo the hands of our prisoners, degates of the International Committee and solely on whether the German of the Red Cross, or by represent horities move to the camps the tives of War Prisoners Aid of dods which we and the International Committee of the Red Cross obtain the names of the individual ce in German hands at the Gerprisoners.

'2542' WHOA no reduces is known, notify sender on FORM 3547, Postmaster-If addressee has removed and new

Austin 12 Texas The University of Texas Library Serials Acquisition

Reinin Postage Guaranteed

Washington 13, D. C. The American National Red Cross Published by

FEBRUARY 1945

soners of War Bulletin

Sports at Luft III

cember 18 from Mr. Hugo Cedegre of the YMCA stated that footbal was the main sports activity at St. lag Luft III during October and the men were waiting for frost highed by the American National Red Cross for the Relatives of American Prisoners of War and Civilian Internees quate sports materials were on han to meet the camp's requirements up. 3, NO. 3

Transportation Crisis in Germany

WASHINGTON, D. C.

Eve and Christmas Day as the guesfor American and Allied prisonof General Vanaman, senior Amer held by Germany, the American mas decorations sent by the YMC izerland or in various European cember. American morale was thes societies also had adjacent to ported to be "good and hopeful." many similar supplies representa total of many millions of dol-While these goods are available immediate shipment to German ingly ruled that it cannot acces ups, hundreds of thousands of erican and Allied prisoners have group pictures taken in enemy to n or are now being moved on across Germany. We are connted with a real problem to get group picture are identified by the supplies to our men now caught prisoner who sends the picture home this unprecedented westward the BULLETIN always publishes the our ability to get relief supnames as given. In the case of present the hands of the ha

RISONERS OF

avity of the transportation crisis is the report some days ago that the erman railroads had evacuated erman women and children from passurerens si think 101 agest was in the east in open coal cars

Packages at Lubeck

The American Red Cross has gone the limit in laying down relief pplies, not simply at the frontiers Germany, but in Germany itself the port of Lübeck. Over 1,000,-6 food packages, shipped through Iternational Red Cross channels a Sweden, are today in Lübeck, here we have constantly mainained stocks since last October. Aner 2,000,000 packages are in the wedish port of Göteborg, whence they could be moved on to Lübeck in two days' time. In Switzerland and in southern European ports we have 4,000,000 packages, and this total of 7,000,000 food packages amply foresees the needs of our own prisoners, as well as those of our Al-

The work of relief to prisoners of war in German camps is today confronted by grave transportation difficulties. Progressively through the months of December, January, and February there has been a tremendous movement of populations, of goods, and of military supplies on a railroad system that, day and night, is being bombarded. In consequence, shipments that formerly went to prison camps from Switzerland or Lübeck in a few days now require weeks.

In December 1944, 330,248 Red Cross food packages, including the special Christmas parcels, were moved to German camps and hospitals for American prisoners. But there was a serious falling off in deliveries to camps during January, and late dispatches from Geneva state that the situation was equally grave in February.

Prelude to Victory

The plain fact we must face is that the better the war goes for the Allies in Germany, the more difficult it will be to continue to serve prisoners of war with Red Cross supplies. The men themselves in the prison camps are fully aware of this. They know that the progressive disorganization and ultimate breakdown of the German state will probably precede the Allied victory, and that this disorganization will mean additional privations for them.

For four years the Germans maintained a rather unusual record in delivering punctiliously the relief supplies for war prisoners in Germany. Whether the particular German officials who established this record will have the strength to prevail over present less organized conditions remains to be seen.

MARCH 1945

The greater the difficulties, however, the greater will be our efforts to overcome them. The fact that over 1,000,000 food packages have been placed in German hands at Lübeck by the American Red Cross and the International Red Cross is but one instance of the steps that are being taken, even at some risk, to maintain the supply line. International Red Cross representatives in Geneva, in Berlin, and at the port of Lübeck are struggling continuously to get a sufficient number of German railroad cars in order to keep goods moving to the camps.

Use of Trucks

In addition to moving goods on railroad cars, the American Red Cross and other Allied Red Cross societies are placing a number of trucks at the disposal of the International Red Cross for use in Germany. The American Army is furnishing gasoline in order that the trucks may constantly operate in Germany.

Both the Swiss and Swedish governments and people are giving unstinted cooperation in meeting the present transportation crisis. No possibility, including the use of planes, has been overlooked, but the great volume of supplies needed for over a million American and Allied prisoners cannot be moved otherwise than by rail and auto trucks.

Permit No. 84 Washington, D. C. Uke PAID U. S. POSTAGE

Reports from German Camps

Stalag II B

Ben Morasco, an American prisoner of war, sent, through Geneva, the following report on sports at Stalag II B:

Softball is the favorite pastime enjoyed by American prisoners of war at Stalag II B, somewhere in Germany. To date, three leagues, each lasting about a month, have been played. The first series was taken by the Apple Knockers and the last two by the Butter Cups, who finished in third place in the first league. Some real ball was played through each series, with many proplayed illough each series, with many player fessional ball players found to be in our midst. Some of the outstanding players are: Frank Lavascio, Allen Dernback, and George Cottone from New York; Roy Fagan and Wallace Graves from Texas; W. R. Plouf from way up in Washington; "Pop" Drake from Oklahoma; Bill Orlaski from Michigan; George York from Bean Town, Boston; Mahlon Black from Pennsylvania; and Ruben Camacho from Sunny California. Practically every state in the union was represented by at least one player on one of the many teams. Another item of importance is the age-old feud between the North and South. Three ball games have been played between the two factions, and the Rebels have beat the Yanks in two of them. Plans are under way at present for a fourth game.

Volleyball is enjoyed by a few. In a tour-nament to determine the champs of the Stalag, an American team composed of Steve Schweitz, Roy Fagan, Wally Graves, Allen Dernback, Ruben Camacho, and Jett Black took top honors. They defeated the French and Belgians with ease. A handcarved plaque, made by a French prisoner, was presented to the winners.

Our American basketball team is one that is not to be overlooked. They have taken on all comers and have won two or three times the number of games that they have lost. Almost every evening, you can see the French and Americans, or the Belgians and Americans, battling it out on the court. Seldom does the American quintet come off on the short end of the score. Every American prisoner of war sends his thanks and best wishes to the International YMCA for making these sports possible.

Stalag Luft III

When visited by a Delegate of the International Red Cross on November 24-25 last, Stalag Luft III contained 10,091 Allied airmen, including 6,654 Americans. The American strength comprised 6,127 officers and 516 noncoms, plus doctors and chaplains. Prisoners were arriving at the new compound known as Camp Belaria three times weekly in batches of about 100, About 80 percent of the new arrivals last November were Americans.

The Delegate reported "no serious complaints, but rations slightly reduced since last visit." There had also been "a general loss of weight since [Red Cross] package distribution had been reduced to half, but health still good." The camp had a package reserve sufficient for eight weeks, the report stated, so it is presumed that the cut in distribution was a temporary measure caused by transportation difficulties inside Germany. The clothing situation was satisfactory, four carloads of new clothing having arrived during the Delegate's visit. American blankets had also been received. Since last June, 15,000 books had arrived from the YMCA. Anti-typhoid inoculations were being given regularly, and, the report concluded, "morale was excellent."

Stalag IV D

A Delegate of the International Red Cross, who visited Stalag IV D at Torgau in Saxony on November 29 last, reported that the camp then contained 320 Americans out of a total strength of nearly 50,000 prisoners of war. Sgt. Dean J. Van Dussen was given as the American spokesman. The Americans had recently arrived from the western front, and needed supplies of all kinds. Indispensable food and clothing, the report stated, were obtained from the British spokesman, pending arrival of American Red Cross supplies from Switzer-

(When American prisoners of war are assimed to predominantly British camps, they far British Red Cross stocks if American Robinster are not immediately available. Recipious are not immediately available. Recipioners are not manufactured in an emergency to draw on American supplies.—Ed.)

Stalag IV G

American prisoners of war were first reported in Stalag IV G at Oschatz (about 75 miles south of Berlin), in the province of Saxony, last October. The camp at that time contained 50 Americans.

The following report was written by the spokesman of a British work detachment dependent on Stalag

I represent a total of over 1,200 prisoners of war divided amongst 15 work camps [detachments] ranging in size from 20 men to nearly 250. Each work camp has a con-fidence man [spokesman] who may also have to work, depending on the size of the camp. These camp confidence men are in regular touch with me by means of my visits to them, which are unrestricted, and I see them on various other occasions such as when Red Cross clothing, food packages.

etc., are issued. In turn, I am in to with the chief British man of confident at the base camp. He watches, office our interests at headquarters, by m of my visits to Stalag, when the indivi of my visits to Statag, when the individ-requirements of the various work camp-reported to him. He is also allowed me periodic visits to the working Komman I travel regularly to Stalag with in port for these packages. They are in a central magazine within one of camps until distributed-usually a every four weeks. Every camp has a satisf tory reserve of packages and every effor made to keep this reserve constant. Ev man in the area is receiving a food par age and 50 cigarettes per week.

(British standard packages, unlike American, do not contain cigarettes.—Ed.)

Clothing usually arrives in large con-ments which I collect from Stalag It issued on the camp confidence man's nature from the German stores under direct supervision. The issue of the do ing within the work camp is the direct sponsibility of the camp confidence m who is in a better position to know men's personal requirements.

The work varies greatly, from raily, repair sheds to manufacturing ice for to storage purposes. There are, however, i large number of men employed in factors or indoor work, although actually the won is usually harder. The hours all round ha a tendency to be long, and 10 hours a day is fairly general. Sunday work still carri on, but every other Sunday is free in mos cases. Usually the prisoners are housed in cases. Usuary the prisoners are noused and one large room for sleeping, lavatories and washrooms being separate. Beds are in more cases 3-tiered and wooden, each man being provided with a palliasse and two blankers upboards for clothes, etc., are rather scare. Almost every form of sport or entertain-ment is permitted, if the facilities exist or can be provided. Cinema shows are given on Sunday mornings, every two or the weeks.

in this area when I say that, thanks to the Red Cross, life as a POW in a working camp, although definitely not a pleasure, at least bearable.

Stalag VI G

Stalag VI G at Bergisch-Neustadt near Gummersback, east of Cologue was being used last December as a ed transit camp for wounded prisoners of war captured on the western front The men were transferred to other 743 (including 65 officers and 294 camps as soon as their condition per (43 (including 05 omeers and 25) mitted. There were 48 Americans at rength of 20,357. There were 74 Stalag VI G on November 30, last, ritish and American prisoners in according to a cable from the International Red Cross.

Stalag XII A

A note on Stalag XII A at Limburg, on the Lahn river, was pu lished in the November 1944 But LETIN. At that time, the camp coltained about 1,500 Americans. later report from the International

Dulag Luft

I am expressing the opinion of everybody. James D. Dillon has decorated the n this area when I say that thanks in the ns hall wall at Dulag Luft with a Dagwood cartoon.

Upper right: The kitchen and mess hall at Dulag Luft, transit camp for newly captured Allied fliers. Lower right: Allied fliers in the mess hall at Dulag Luft transit camp. No names given, Cross, following a Delegate's it to the camp on November 24, gave the number of Americans camp infirmary, Stalag XII A, acding to the latest reports availe, was being used mainly as a ansit camp for Americans.

Dulag Luft

All captured Allied airmen of the nited Kingdom and Italian theers of operation are filtered through ntification centers. After that processing, they are sent from the centers by transport to the Dulag Luft transit camp at Wetzlar, Klosterwald, and held there from three to thirty days.

When sufficient prisoners are accumulated and have been reprocessed, a railroad transport usually comprising about 90 men is made up and dispatched to a Luftwaffe permanent camp. Three transports or more a week are dispatched. Depending upon the location of the permanent camp and transport conditions, the journey varies from two to five days. Upon arrival at the permanent Luftwaffe camp, the prisoners report to that camp's senior Allied officer.

A report dated August 11 from Col. Charles W. Stark, USAAF, senior Allied officer at Dulag Luft, stated:

It is impossible to emphasize how badly all Allied officers and men coming into Dulag Luft are in need of food, clothing, spiritual and mild recreation relief. Spiritual guidance and recreational facilities are ably handled by Acting Chaplain Clifford Hooton, W/O, RAF. Because of the generally poor physical and mental condition of prisoners on arrival here, and because of their relatively brief stay, any large-scale organized recreation is impractical, and would be of little value in our camp. Our aim is to make the camp as pleasant and nerve calming as possible. Red Cross food and clothing supplies, together with the German facilities, make this endeavor about 90 percent complete, and now we would like to achieve the final 10 percent by having a more complete recreational program.

The use of books and motion pictures was recommended by Colonel Stark for completing the recreational program, and his request for the necessary materials was sent to the YMCA at Geneva. One picture in particular that he asked for was the German film of the 1936 Olympic games in Berlin, which "many of us have seen and consider one of the most thrilling, beautiful, and interesting films we have ever viewed," according to Colonel Stark.

In regard to Red Cross supplies, the report stated:

They have reached us quite steadily, and we are able to clothe and feed the officers and men very well. I wish it were possible to film a "before and after" picture. The change from a semi-clothed and semi-exhausted condition to a comparatively normal state is amazing. In fact, so great is the morale lift that some of the transports leave here in much the humor they would have leaving on a football trip.

Particularly does the well-planned Red Cross "Joy Box" (the capture parcel) receive praise. This case truly assumes the part of the present at Christmas. The fact that the contents of the capture parcel are all essential items is excellent evidence that the Red Cross has investigated, and given much thorough consideration and thought to our needs. The result has been a wonder-

Red Cross food packages are supplied at Dulag Luft to all prisoners going out on transports, as well as to the small permanent staff kept at Dulag Luft.

Stalag IV B

A cable from Geneva early in February stated that 5,000 American prisoners of war-presumably captured on the western front in the second half of December - had reached Stalag IV B at Mühlberg, near Dresden. As Stalag IV B was used during the second half of 1944 as a transit camp for Americans, it is probable that the January-February arrivals were sent there for assignment mainly to work camps in the fourth military district-that is, around Dresden.

Stalag IV B was visited by an International Red Cross Delegate on November 23 last, and he reported that, out of 11,532 prisoners of war, 414 (including 240 noncoms) were Americans. The camp's clothing reserve was under severe strain because of the "numerous prisoners in transit from the western front who are lackeverything." Supplementary (Continued on page 12)

Repatriates from Germany

The fifteen seriously wounded American prisoners of war who were flown from Marseille to the United States in the latter part of January came from seven German camps-Stalags Luft I, III, and IV, Oflag 64, and Stalags II B, III B, and XVII B. The other 463 seriously sick or seriously wounded prisoners of war who were repatriated in the January exchange reached New York on February 21 on the M. S. Gripsholm. The exchange ship also brought back from Germany 46 merchant seamen, 622 civilian internees, of whom 548 were United States nationals or their relatives, and 78 Canadian military personnel.

All the repatriated prisoners of war began their journey from German camps or hospitals in the first week of January. None of the men, up to that time, had learned definitely of the closing of any German camps in consequence of the Russian advance which began in January.

The repatriates reported that the main camps for American prisoners of war were greatly overcrowded, largely because of recent arrivals from the western front. At Stalag III B, for example, the American strength had doubled in a few weeks, and reached 6,500 early in January. The number of Americans at Stalag II B had risen from 7,200 to 8,500, and more were expected.

Despite the large influx of newly captured prisoners, Stalag II B has freed 513 American prisoners a two months' reserve of Red Conford packages, and Stalag II B at Cabanatuan on January 30. two weeks' reserve, at the beginning of January; but in these two came cases were liberated from Military as in others, food package "ratio roment Camp No. 1 at Santo ing" in one form or another than 38, and, on the following day, ing" in one form or another has, and, on the following day, been necessary for varying period military prisoners and 500 civilof time in the latter part of 191 internees from the Bilibid prison when military operations and a warning were freed. The civilian difficulty of powing relief. difficulty of moving relief goods amees in Bilibid had been moved German railroads had seriously a fected the regular flow of supplies the camps. These supplies include cricans were liberated when the clothing and confort articles. clothing and comfort articles as we lippine General Hospital in Maas food.

The repatriates stated that there were now long delays in receiving next-of-kin and tobacco parcels, and that in these shipments (which are through international postal channels) the percentage of loss and pilferage was high. It was recombered that relatives refresher. mended that relatives refrain from war and civilian internees have putting soap or soap powder in par been liberated. cels containing food, and that, when it the request of Col. E. M. ever possible, such items as the imm. companding officer of the ever possible, such items as flour mm, commanding officer of the rice, sugar, etc., be placed in sealed ited States forces at Santo Tomas, cellophane bags so that the German director of American Red Cross censors can see the contents without lian relief in the Philippines imopening the bag.

to be well aware of the growing diff. ergency. culties involved in maintaining a reg. First priority on Red Cross supular flow of supplies to the camps, and appreciation was expressed of ap hospital. A Red Cross worker the services being continuously ren o had been interned for three dered by the relief agencies.

LIEF ACTIVITIES IN THE PHILIPPINES

he American forces in the Philipwas captured on February 18, diately brought in a staff of 10 All the men interviewed seemed Cross workers to assist in the > es was given to patients in the ars, and who during that time was ad of the medical clerical staff at nto Tomas, continued to serve the tients in the camp hospital after Shipments of Red Cross chapterduced clothing, prepared for the ilippines at General MacArthur's uest, were sent to the Islands to et the immediate needs of the ed Americans. In addition to more an 636,000 articles of clothing, mfort articles such as soap, toothste, and razors were included in shipments. Special supplies were nt for the women in the internent camps.

The Junior Red Cross has sent 2,000 pounds of dried milk, 1,500 ft boxes, and 1,000 pounds of candy or the children who were liberated. American Red Cross Civilian War elief officials, cooperating with he Army Civil Affairs section on Luzon, delivered 4,400 messages from home to 2,708 Americans at Santo Tomas, 1,800 to prisoners at Bilibid, and an undisclosed number to the men liberated at Cabanatuan. Air mail stationery was distributed for replies and messages, which were flown direct to the United States.

An American Red Cross representative cabled from Manila on February 8:

One week ago the first Americans released by our forces (at Cabanatuan) were given messages from home by the Red Cross. Never before have I seen such scenes of joy. Tears of happiness ran down the cheeks of the freed prisoners as they received first words from home in a year or two years.

A priority was issued to Red Cross civilian relief officials in Manila to fly in 15 Red Cross women workers from Leyte and Dutch New Guinea to aid in caring for more than 5,000 internees, as well as homeless Filipino civilians.

Instructions for sending mail and cablegrams to liberated civilians and prisoners may be obtained from local Red Cross chapters.

FAR EASTERN MAP

This issue of Prisoners of War Bulletin contains a new map showing the known locations of prisoner of war and civilian internee camps where American nationals are held in what is called Japan proper-that is, the islands of Honshu, Kyushu, Hokkaido, and Shikoku.

An earlier Far Eastern map (published in the July 1944 Bulletin) gave the approximate locations of all camps in the Far East understood at that time to contain American nationals. So far as is known, the camps then shown in China, Manchuria, Burma, Thailand, French Indo-China, and Malaya remain unchanged, so that there is no need to include them on the present map.

The Philippine Islands and Formosa (Taiwan) have been omitted from the map because the American prisoners of war formerly there have been liberated or the camps have been closed. The Japanese government reported that 183 American prisoners of war were moved from Taiwan to Camp Hoten in Manchuria last November.

ALLIED AGREEMENT ON FREED PRISONERS

The following is the text of an agreement concerning prisoners liberated by the Allied forces invading Germany, announced by the American, British, and Russian governments on February 12:

A comprehensive agreement was reached at the Crimea conference providing detailed arrangements for the protection, maintenance and repatriation of prisoners of war and civilians of the British Commonwealth, Soviet Union and United States liberated by the Allied forces now invading

Under these arrangements each Ally will provide food, clothing, medical attention, and other needs for the nationals of the others until transport is available for their repatriation. In caring for British subjects and American citizens, the Soviet Government will be assisted by British and American officers. Soviet officers will assist British and American authorities in their task of caring for Soviet citizens liberated by the British and American forces during such times as they are on the continent of Europe or in the United Kingdom, awaiting transport to take them home.

We are pledged to give every assistance consistent with operational requirements to help to insure that all these prisoners of war and civilians are speedily repatriated.

LOSS OF PHILIPPINES' PRISONERS

The announcement was made in the latter part of February that a Japanese ship evacuating 1,800 prisoners of war, nearly all of them Americans, from the Philippines was torpedoed on October 24 last about 250 miles off the China coast. So far as was known, the announcement stated, there were only five survivors.

A few days later, the further announcement was made that another Japanese ship carrying 1,600 American prisoners of war was sunk on December 15 with the loss of 800

(On several occasions the International Committee of the Red Cross has appealed to all belligerents in the present conflict to take all possible measures for assuring the safety of prisoners of war and civilian internees transported on ships. However, unless American prisoners are transported on enemy hospital ships, or on ships announced by the enemy as being used for this exclusive purpose, our own war vessels have no means of knowing our prisoners are aboard a given Japanese vessel.-ED.)

LATEST INFORMATION ON CAMP MOVEMENTS

(By cable from Geneva)

Approximately 53 percent of all American prisoners of war in Germany, late in February, were moving westwardmainly on foot. The total number of American, Belgian, British, French, Norwegian, Polish, and Yugoslav prisoners evacuated from camps in eastern Ger-many and Poland exceeded 300,000.

Some 4,600 Americans from Stalag III B reached Luckenwalde (Stalag III A) in an exhausted condition after a 10-day hike in bad weather. After a few days' rest, they were scheduled to continue on foot to a new camp being prepared about 12 miles west of Luckenwalde. Some American airmen from Stalag Luft III went to Luckenwalde, but most of them in late February were reported to be en route to Moosburg (Stalag VII A) and Nürnberg (Stalag XIII D). British airmen from Luft III moved, through Luckenwalde, towards Marlag-Milag in northwest Germany.

Of the approximately 1,500 American ground force officers evacuated from Oflag 64 on very short notice, and in bitter cold, on January 21, 266 men unable to march went by train to Luckenwalde. The remainder were marched, and a number have been liberated by the advancing Russians. Some of these have already reached the United States. At the end of February, 600 American officers from Oflag 64 were in process of being transferred to the vicinity of Stettin.

Prisoners from Stalags II A, II B, II D Stargard), and III C, and from Stalag Luft IV, were grouped near Stettin. About 250 Americans from Stalag Luft VII were moved to Stalag III A.

Large stores of Red Cross supplies had to be left behind when the principal American camps were evacuated. The latest cables from Geneva emphasized that much hardship is being suffered by the evacuated prisoners, and even more by German civilian refugees.

The Saga of John Kriegy (Continued from page 7) avorite volumes in circulation is the book-inding shop superintended by Lt. Donald shop superintended by Lt. Donald shop superintended by Lt. Vanald William Hanson, and Vernon Paul-

Reproduced from The Oflag 64 Item of January 1, 1945

This article was written by American prisoners of war, and is reproduced exactly as it appeared in The Item, the Oflag of monthly newssheet, as recently as January 1. About three weeks after this issue of The Item appeared, most of the men were moved from Szubin (Altburguna) to Stalag III A. at Luckenwalde, located about 30 miles south of Berlin.

Luckemunde, located about 30 miles south of Bertin.

The importance which the men attach to the Red Cross food package is evident from this article. For 15 months, up to October 21 very American prisoner in Ofiag 64 regulations of the Red Cross food package is evident from this carp. There was, however, a complete gap in the delibery of packages through the month of November. No shipments were more than 10 months of the Market and October because of during September and October because of during September and October because of during against supplementary food reserves being stored inside the camp. Later shipments were delayed because of the state of the stat

Item news-sleuths last month combed the Oflag from White House to outhouse, peering and prying into every twist and turn of kriegie operations to find what makes the camp tick.

Here's what they found.

Lieutenant John Average Kriegie of Oflag 64, sitting for his composite statistical portrait, reveals these facts about himself: He is 27 years old. His home is in New York or Pennsylvania or Texas. He is half bachelor and half married (most men are like that). He attended college but, more likely than not, left the academic halls without a

His civilian occupation was that of student or salesman, clerk or businessman.

His favorite pastime, at which he is, through no fault of his own, in but poor practice, is eating.

Pastimes

The occupation to which he devotes most time is thinking and talking and dreaming about food, preparing menus for future repasts and devising means of stretching Red Cross packages when available to their ultimate maximum of nutrition, longevity and satisfaction. Otherwise he occupies his time with smoking, reading and all manner of handicrafts and housewifery, with liberal schedules of educational classes, dramatic and musical entertainment, religious services and games (all indoor at this season, but in better weather and on more adequate diet including many athletic sports).

An overall group picture of Oflag 64's population discloses abundant deviation from the average. The age of kriegies here ranges from the average of 27 down to a minimum of 19 (two officers) and up to a maximum of 52 (one officer). Of a total camp strength numbering 1,035 when the tabulation was made, 650 came within the age group 23 to 28, inclusive.

Each of the 48 American states is represented in the camp population with num-bers varying from New York's 108, Pennsylvania's 58, and Texas' 74 to Delaware's, Montana's, Rhode Island's, Utah's and Wyoming's 2 each. The District of Columbia claims 13 and Hawaii 3. Our Allied nations are represented as follows: France, 3; Morocco, 3; Algeria, 2; Tunisia, 2; and Married men in camp number 516.

A total of 645 kriegies here have attended college, and more than 300 of them won degrees. There are 153 Bachelors of Science, including B.S. in Commerce and in various branches of engineering, and 105 Bachelors of Art. There are 19 M.D.'s and 14 Bachelors of Law, and 9 M.A.'s. There is a Ph.D. and LL.D. and such assorted degrees as B.B.A., Ph.B., B.E., B.S., M.S., C.M., J.D., B.B.S., D.D.S., B.D., and A.A.—not to mention R.F.D., P.D.Q., and W.P.A.

Professions

It would take an I.B.M. machine and a flock of assorted forms to classify in detail the civilian occupations of Oflag 64, but the broad groups include 170 who were students, 98 clerks, 98 salesmen, and 89 in other fields of business. There are 48 professional soldiers in this collection of POW's from a civilian army, 42 engineers, 36 farmers, 34 teachers, and 34 laborers: 19 doctors and 2 dentists; 5 Protestant ministers and 2 priests; and 10 journalists (a journalist is a newspaper man with spats

This by no means exhausts the catalog. Our kriegies include an explorer and a labor arbitrator, a forest ranger and an expediter (put that fellow in charge of mail and parcels!), two bartenders and a photolithographer, a professional fund raiser, a porcelain enamelist, a fingerprint classifier, a calendar designer, a pro baseball player, a Boy Scout executive, a watchmaker, a marine inspector, a photostatistician, a hatter (not yet mad), a seaman, a . S. Treasury investigator, a worsted cloth finisher, 6 ranchers and a horse trainer, a policeman, an artist, an actor, a patent at-torney, and the Commandant of a Military

Camp Setup

Under the command of Col. Paul R. Goode, senior American officer, a thoroughly organized staff supervises the internal administration of John Kriegie's camp. Col. George Millett is executive officer, Lt. Col. Max Gooler, assistant executive officer, and

Col. F. W. Drury, inspector general. Maj. Kermit Hansen is S-I, Lt. Col. James Alger S-2, Lt. Col. John Waters S-3, and Lt. Col. Louis Gershenow S-4. Capt. Floyd Burgeson is medical officer and Capt. Charles Glennon is chaplain.

Two departments of the camp organization, the kitchen and mess under Lt. Col. William Martz and the tin stores under Capt. Tony Lumpkin, dispense, when, as, and if available, that substance with which every kriegie is preoccupied: FOOD.

Food

The kitchen prepares for John K each day 650 liters of soup, 1,056 pour amps, a sewing frame and needles are the potatoes, 1,056 pounds of cabbage, or incipal tools of this shop. More than 600 nips as the case may be, and 1,464 ooks have been salvaged and restored to of ersatz coffee. The camp's profes rculation. statistician might be able to figure "Western in a year, but Lt. Average Kriegie mea requently.
it by the tablespoonful. Other items More than 30 officers have applied to uncooked meat (including bones), six ide facilities for them. thousandths of an ounce of spice, two thousandths of an ounce of vinegar, If Lt. Kriegie wants to study any of more when packages are available.

handle short order cooking.

A. Annunziata who was ma

Parcel Store

The parcel store, handling Red Consusical comedy.

tobacco (37 brands).

Raleigh pipe tobacco. Stores are open 9:00 to 10:30 a. m. we days and 9:30 to 10:30 a. m. Sundays. Ti D-bar store is open only on Tuesdays. Soap is available at all times (1 bar pe

One kriegie, applying for pipe tobact and asked what brand, inquired, "What

Another applied for 87 cigarettes. Capt. Lumpkin has been head of ! entire tin store since June 6, 1943. Cap Maynard Files has the same record of ser ice as head of the tobacco division at Capt. James Dicks as head of parcel feut.
Assistants in the tobacco division are Lt.
Robert Wick. Lt. Vic Laughlin and Lt.

-all without previous experience in ookbinding, but learning fast in the school practical work. For bookbinding material ney use wax paper from cigarette cartons and binding tape from old Red Cross boxes. book trimming machine obtained from a erman blacksmith shop, hammer, wooden

"Westerns," detective stories, and his many ocean vessels the soup might orical novels come into the shop most the German ration supplied to Offag 6arn bookbinding as a hobby and Lt. Lusclude 1.26 ounces per man per day of anden hopes that eventually he may pro-thousanding of an onnee of salt.

Education

The total German meat ration, to advanced psychology, he may attend the boning and cooking, is 86 pounds per although deadwared psychology, he may attend the boning and cooking, is 86 pounds per although deadwared psychology, he may attend the boning and cooking, is 86 pounds per although deadwared psychology, he may attend the boning and cooking, is 86 pounds per although the salt page 189 per al The short order cooking, serving twinbert Eldridge, an educator of 22 years' messes a day, handles between 40 and sperience. The curriculum and faculty culinary concoctions a day when Red bere listed in detail in the December 1 packages are coming in regularly. Term. More than $50 students are enrolled, hundred fifty cans are opened each pecial lectures open to all kriegies frewhen packages are available. Col. Martz's assistant mess officers Lt. Kriegie's spiritual welfare is the con-Copt. George Lucey, Capt. Allen Wern of chaplains who conduct two services Lt. Robert Aschim and Lt. Leo Farber. Cach. Sunday for Protestants and daily Joe Emerson is ration officer. Capt. Basses for Catholics. The religious pro-Miller, Lt. Fay Straight and Lt. Curtis Jean also includes semi-weekly Bible classes handle short order cooking. The camp cooks are Sgt. D. C. Ob at twice-a-month communion services for who was a CCC cook before entering carmy, Sgt. M. D. Massey, Pfc. J. Patton atholics.

Theater

baker at Russo's Bakery, Brooklyn.

The K. P. staff includes Sgt. V. H. Bu All entertainment for Lt. Kriegie is under The R. P. staff includes Sgt. V. H. But Pervision of the Theater Group which Cedillo, M. Greenfield, J. B. Browning E. Elkins, D. Kakac, D. McConnaughy and points oducers for each. The group has pre-tact Gallis. ay hits, seven one-act plays, eight musical rues, about a dozen swingland programs, and private parcels, has an average to The backstage group under Lt. Lou Otter-300-400 customers a day during good time in constructed the stage, seating stands, and 100-125 a day during bad times. Stage sets and hundreds of props.

The tobacco store handles 12,000 of In better weather when Red Cross pack-rettes a day, 200 cigars and 100 packages ages were more numerous, Lt. Kriegie parpipe tobacco.

In stock as of October 1 were 1,000me gets his exercise by walking and his cigarettes (47 different brands), 12,000 cigarettes (47 different brands), 12,000 cigarettes ports are cribbage, poker, bridge (28 brands) and 10,000 packages of piped chess.

Publications

Most popular brands are Camel correctes, El Roi-Tan cigars, and Sir Walls have edited by Lt. Frank Diggs news officers and the consequence of the ons edited by Lt. Frank Diggs, news offier, under supervision of the S-2, Lt. Col. ames Alger. The Daily Bulletin staff inndes Lt. Diggs, editor; Lt. Seymour Bol-n, chief translator; Lt. Ken Goddard, art tor; Lt. David Englander, feature edi-Lt. Tom Magee, printer; Lt. Charles sz, cartographer; Wright Bryan, Sunday or; and Lts. Martin Smith, Carl Hansen Ed Spicher, translators.

he Oflag 64 Item staff includes Lt. Diggs. or, and Lt. Larry Phelan, Lt. David ander, Lt. Frank Hancock, Lt. Howard ler, Lt. Teddy Roggen, Capt. Charles inson, Lt. Robert Cheatham, Lt. James tkers, Lt. Alexander Ross and War Corondent Wright Bryan.

Minstrel show at Oflag 64. This picture was brought out in January 1945 by a repatriate.

INOCULATIONS AGAINST TYPHUS

The U. S. Army Typhus Commission recently supplied the American Red Cross with sufficient typhus vaccine to inoculate every American prisoner of war in Germany.

One hundred cartons, each containing 50 vials of 20 cc. of vaccine were flown from the United States to Marseille in the middle of February. From Marseille, the vaccine was sent to the International Committee of the Red Cross in Geneva, with instructions that it be distributed to camps in which Americans were held.

Those prisoners who have previously been inoculated against typhus are to be given a "booster" to render their immunity certain. Those not previously treated will be given the required number of inoculations.

Mail

Of course the most important news to Lt. Kriegie is news from family and home. He gets this through the mail officer, Capt. Robert Schultz, and his assistant, Lt. Robert Henry.

Lt. Kriegie's allowance of outgoing mail is three letters and four cards a month. Protected personnel are allowed double this amount, while orderlies are allowed two letters and four cards.

Letters from home average about 100 days in reaching Oflag 64. One took 367 days and the speed record is held by a letter to Lt. Amon Carter which reached here 14 days after it was written.

Incoming mail totals about 350 letters a day which works out to an average of about one letter every three days for the entire Oflag population, but old kriegies average about 15 letters a month.

All in all, John Average Kriegy has set

MINSTREL SHOW AT OFLAG 64

The Oflag 64 Item of December 1, 1944 ("Circulation 1,130, Still Growing") reported that:

The second annual Robert E. Lee Minstrel, complete with steamboat captained by Russ Ford, will dock at the Little Theater for six nights starting December 4th, with a full cargo of dusky comedy and Stephen Foster melodies.

Howard Holder will again act as interlocutor, while last year's end men, Syd Thal and Bill Fabian, will be augmented by Don Waful and Jack Cook, with the addition of four chocolate-colored beauties-Kermit Hansen, Keith Willes, Wilbur Sharpe, and Leo Farber-the "Queenie" of last year's show.

HISTORY OF THE INTER-NATIONAL RED CROSS

A limited number of copies of a special publication commemorating the 80th anniversary of the founding of the International Committee of the Red Cross may be obtained, at a cost of $1.30 per copy, postpaid. Orders may be sent direct to the International Red Cross Committee, 1645 Connecticut Avenue, N. W., Washington 9, D. C.

The publication, which is entitled The International Red Cross Committee in Geneva, 1863-1943, comprises 78 well-illustrated pages, and records the history and organization of the Committee from its modest beginning through its first 80 years of service to mankind.

up an efficient and well-run American camp within the barbed wire. He only wishes it were about 5,000 miles due west from Althurgund.

Camp Movements

A cable from the American Red Cross representative at Geneva in the middle of February referred to "the great mass movement of prisoners now marching on foot westward to beyond line Stettin-Berlin-Görlitz-Chemnitz-Carlsbad, comprising camps and working detachments in Wehrkreise (military districts) 1, 20, 21, 8,

Most of the main camps for American prisoners of war in Germany, based eastern half of 2, 3, and southern half of 4." Most of the main camps for American prisoners of war in Germany, based on official data available to December 31, 1944, were definitely included in the foregoing military districts, or the designated portions thereof. These camps, specifically, were Stalags II B, III B, III C, Offag 64, and Stalags Luft III and IV. Specifically, were Stalags II B, III B, III C, Offing 64, and Stalags Lutt III and IV. Other camps housing substantial numbers of Americans in military district 4 were: Stalags IV A, IV B, IV C, IV D, and IV F, but not all these Stalags were in the southern half of military district 4. About 60 percent of all American prisoners of war held by Germany at the beginning of 1945 were in Stalags in military districts

On February 13, the War Department and the Department of State jointly announced that official information had been received with respect to the evacuation westward of American prisoners of war formerly detained in camps in eastern

Germany. This announcement stated:

All the camps in East Prussia, Poland, and that part of Pomerania east of the All the camps in East Prussia, Poland, and that part of Pomerania east of the Vision of the Stalog II B. Similarly. Stalas III B and III C are being moved to Stalog II B. Similarly. Stalas III B and III C are being moved to the southwest. Prisoners of war in the morthern part of Silesia are being moved northwest and those in southern Silesia, particularly at Stalag VIII B and Stalag 344, are being moved southwest sacross Bohemia. It is understood that the officers from Oflag 64 are being sent to Stalag III A at Luckenwalde, between Berlin and Leipzig. The destination of the other prisoners has not been confirmed.

the other prisoners has not been confirmed.

Information concerning the relocation of prisoner of war camps is constantly being received. This information will be made public as soon as it is possible to confirm these relocations. Pending a notification through the usual official sources, next of kin are urged to continue to address communications to individual prisoners war to their tast known guaress. The lack of information about the ultimate destination, the cable from the of war to their last known address. American Red Cross representative at Geneva pointed out, made it "extremely American Red Cross representative at Geneva pointed out, made it "extremely difficult to make plans to supply very pressing needs of moving prisoners, as well as of those already in camps," but assurance was given that the International Committee of the Red Cross "is making every effort to overcome present grave situation."

Article 7 of the Geneva Convention of 1929 Relative to the Treatment of

Prisoners of War states:

Prisoners of war shall be evacuated within the shortest possible period after

Prisoners of war shall be evacuated within the shortest possible period after their capture, to depots located in a region far enough from the zone of combat them to be out of aunger.

Only prisoners who, because of wounds or sickness, would run greater risks for them to be out of danger. by being evacuated than by remaining where they are may be temporarily kept in a gerous zone. Prisoners shall not be needlessly exposed to danger while awaiting their evacuadangerous zone.

tion from the combat zone.

Evacuation of prisoners on foot may normally be effected only by stages of 20 kilometers [12 1-2 miles] a day, unless the necessity of reaching water and food depots requires longer stages. The latest information on camp movements is given on page 4.

German Camp Reports

(Continued from page 4)

food and other Red Cross supplies were also inadequate to meet the sudden and heavy demands that had been made on them. Shipments from Geneva had been delayed en route across Germany, but every effort was being made to fill the camp's needs.

Stalag VII B A Delegate of the International Red Cross visited Stalag VII B on December 12 last, on which date the camp strength was 11,570 prisoners of war-including 925 Americans, of whom 8 were noncoms. Only 63 Americans, including a physician, were at the base camp, the remainder being on work detachments. The Delegate conversed with the spokesmen of 16 detachments. In the Stalag, the Americans occupied "one entire new barrack, small, but well heated, and without vermin." The official rations were reported to be insufficient, but were supplemented by home-grown vegetables Carloads of Red Cross packages were arriving regularly. Reserves were low, however, "because the storage depot had recently been destroyed by bombardment."

The camp Lazarett was reported to be well equipped, with an American physician (John Pfeffer) in attendance. Out of 292 patients in the Lazarett, 32 were Americans. There were also 35 Americans (out of 81 prisoners) in the camp infirmary. Some Americans at Stalag VII B stated that they had been without news from home for 9 months. The Delegate's report stated "camp atmosphere good, general impression

U. S. POSTAGE

1½c PAID

Washington, D. C.

Permit No. 84

PRISONERS OF

Published by the American National Red Cross for the Relatives of American Prisoners of War and Civilian Internees

VOL. 3, NO. 4

WASHINGTON, D. C.

APRIL 1945

THE LIBRARY

Delivering Relief Supplies in Germany

In an effort to relieve the transportation crisis caused by the inability of the German railroads to furnish an adequate number of freight cars for moving prisoner of war supplies from International Red Cross warehouses in Switzerland to the camps, the Swiss government early in March furnished a solid train of 50 cars which were loaded with Red Cross food packages and medical and other supplies for delivery to Stalag VII A at Moosburg, in Bavaria. A delegate of the International Red Cross, as well as a German escort, accompanied the train, and, while the Swiss authorities agreed only to furnish this first train, it was expected that additional ones of the same size would soon follow.

In all European countries, and even in the United States, railroad freight cars are in the most urgent demand, and this action on the part of the Swiss authorities was one more step on their part to do everything possible to maintain the tenuous line of supply to Allied prisoners of war, who, in large part, have been moved under panic conditions within the narrowing confines of Germany's borders.

Shipments from Lubeck

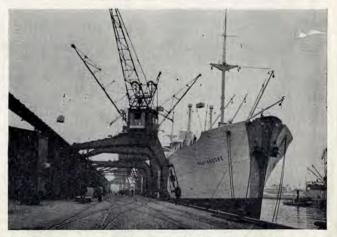

At about the same time the solid train left Switzerland for Moosburg, a convoy of 25 motor trucks (five of which carried gasoline and lubricants, and one medical supplies) left Switzerland with Swiss drivers. The six trucks with gasoline and medical supplies went to the Lübeck area in north Germany to service the International Red Cross trucks, and some which were being operated by enterprising camp spokesmen who had obtained them locally, for delivering food packages from Lübeck to camps in northwest Germany, as well as to prisoners marching across northern Germany from camps formerly in Many of the prisoners marching along the northern route are Americans, and, by the end of the first week in March, International Red Cross trucks operating from Lübeck made possible the distribution of over 100,000 standard food packages to prisoners in camps and on the march in the northern area. At the same time, about 35,000 food packages were leaving Lübeck daily by rail for camps in northern Germany, The risk taken by the American Red Cross some months ago in laving down in Lübeck, under International Red Cross supervision, over 1,000,000 food packages has already justified itself. Stocks in Lübeck are being replenished from Sweden as fast as they are being taken out.

The remaining 19 trucks in the convoy which left Switzerland in early March proceeded to the Carlsbad-Marienbad region (in what is frequently called the Sudetenland), carrying food and medical supplies to meet the large body of prisoners marching from camps in the Silesian region (such as Stalag VIII B, Stalag 344, WK 8 B.A.B. 20 and 21, and so forth). A second convoy of 48 American Red Cross and Canadian Red Cross trucks went forward from Switzerland in 4 columns of 12 trucks each on March 17, 18, and 19.

Unloading prisoner of war supplies from the M. S. Travancore at Goteborg, Sweden, for transshipment to Germany.

Prisoners of War Bulletin

MARCH 1945

Published by

The American National Red Cross Washington 13, D. C.

Return Postage Guaranteed

Serials Acquisition The University of Texas Library Austin 12 Texas

Postmaster-If addressee has removed and new address is known, notify sender on FORM 3547, postage for which is guaranteed.